Council Approves $5,000 Salary For City's Mayor

Common Council Unanimously Adopts Resolution to That Effect and Refers Matter to Laws and Rules Committee to Draft Local Law Making It Effective January 1, 1928—Other Matters Receive Attention.

The common council Tuesday evening unanimously adopted a resolution that the salary of the mayor taking office January 1, 1928, and thereafter shall be $5,000 per annum, and referred the resolution to the laws and rules committee to draft a local law making it effective. The aldermen also introduced a number of resolutions calling for street improvements and a committee was appointed to have charge of arranging the program for the municipal fireworks display to be held the evening of the Fourth of July.

Alderman Haines brought up the question of a salary for the mayor of the city, which has been agitated for a number of years past, by introducing the following resolution:

"Inasmuch as the business of the city of Kingston has developed to the extent that it requires the constant supervision of the mayor, and this requirement is increasing from year to year, it is felt that, in fairness to both the city and the mayor, that the proper and wise distribution of the moneys raised by taxation should require substantially all of the time of the mayor and he should be reimbursed therefor.

"It is resolved that: The salary of the mayor taking office January 1, 1928, and thereafter, shall be $5,000 per annum, subject to the requirement that substantially all of his time shall be devoted to the affairs of the city."

Unanimously Adopted.

Alderman Sharkey moved that the resolution be adopted and referred to the laws and rules committee to have drawn the necessary local law to make it effective, which was seconded by Alderman Fox and unanimously adopted.

Fireworks Fourth of July.

Alderman Mann introduced a resolution that a committee be appointed to take care of the program of fireworks to be shown the evening of the Fourth of July. President Everett appointed Alderman Mann, Moore and Clark as such a committee.

Flag Poles for Parks.

Alderman Radel introduced a resolution that flag poles be erected at Cornell Park and at Block Park. It was referred to the board of public works.

O'Reilly Wants Streets Repaired.

Alderman O'Reilly introduced a resolution that the holes on Broadway at the corner of McEntee street be filled, and Alderman O'Reilly said he desired to make a few remarks on the subject. He said that on Broadway, near Rogers street, there were holes the width of an automobile on each side of the street that should receive immediate attention. He had given his car into one that morning, and it was dangerous to traffic. He said the board of public works had a gang of men busy fixing the gutters on Broadway but they had told him they had no time to stop and repair the two holes.

Alderman O'Reilly said he believed some one should introduce a local law abolishing the board of public works. He said there were enough bosses on the job to see to it that some work was done fixing up holes in the street, and Broadway especially, the main line of traffic, should be attended to at once.

"Jammed Out of Bed."

Alderman DeGarmo introduced a resolution that the corner of Fair and St. Gregory street be repaired at once. Mr. Gregory, who lives on the corner, had claimed that a big truck going by had shaken the other night "three feet out of bed." I request that this be repaired.

The resolution caused a hearty laugh among the aldermen, and later when the laughter had subsided Alderman DeGarmo explained he had introduced it as a joke, but that he had been six months trying to have that corner repaired but without success.

Oak Street Petition.

A petition signed by twelve property owners on Oak street asking that that street receive some attention was read, and Alderman Radel offered a resolution that it be considered and acted. It was referred to the board of public works.

Other resolutions introduced.

Alderman O'Reilly introduced a resolution that the board of public works place catch basins at about 35 Liberty street; that the board of public works fill in holes in Van Buren street.

Alderman O'Reilly—That Leran street be repaired; that sidewalks of the state armory on Hoffman street be repaired.

Pipe Temporary Work.

Alderman Sharkey introduced a resolution that the board of public works construct a pipe under the corner length of the Temporary

Matelskis Held For Grand Jury

After Hearing in Police Court Man and Wife Are Held on Grand Larceny Charge on Complaint of Mrs. Millie Gullob—Steve Bujak Given a Chance.

After a lengthy hearing in police court this morning Judge Shufeldt held Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Matelski of this city to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny lodged against the Matelskis by Mrs. Millie Gullob of No. 19 West Pierpont street.

According to Mrs. Gullob she purchased the property at West Pierpont street of the Matelskis and claims that certain household furnishings were included in the sale of the house. In May of last year, it is charged, the Matelskis removed the articles from the house.

Tuesday afternoon the police were called to the home of Steve Bujak at No. 75 Third avenue, where Mrs. Bujak placed her husband under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct and turned him over to the officers. This morning Judge Shufeldt gave Steve a suspended sentence. Steve, when he appeared in court had several long rashes on the side of his face. How they got there was not explained.

Woolsey Leaves Clothing Firm

Ira Woolsey and Walter H. Ostrander, who have conducted for the past twelve years a successful business as clothiers and haberdashers at 29 North Front street, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Ostrander taking over the business. Mr. Woolsey has become identified with the Heneph Company, Inc., manufacturers of proprietary remedies of various kinds. He is the vice president and manager, his brother, Henry S. Woolsey, being the president. The Heneph Company has become a fast growing concern with a market for its output in nearly every state in this country and in Canada. Mr. Ostrander will continue the clothing business in the same high-class manner as it was conducted heretofore.

Pension Checks At Usual Time

Pensioners will receive their May and June checks at the usual time instead of having to wait until July as was first thought, according to advice received by Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt.

Failure of the second deficiency appropriation bill in the last Congress threatened prompt payment of these checks, but an arrangement has now been made for payment as usual.

Drove Wrong Way On John Street

Tuesday afternoon James McAlliff of West Hurley, who is employed as chauffeur on one of the Woodstock houses, started to drive his big bus the wrong way through John street, a one-way street, and was caught by Officer Soper and arrested. This morning Judge Shufeldt in police court fined McAlliff $10.

Brook through the Eleventh and Twelfth wards to carry water and drainage of the brook, covering the pipe and brook to the level of adjoining properties, and eliminating the brook. It was referred to the board of public works.

Alderman Haines—That holes be filled on Albany avenue, near the Albany Avenue Garage; that board of public works repair Tremper avenue and Ten Brock avenue; that North Manor avenue be repaired.

Alderman Radel—That holes in Five street be filled; that the earth taken from Demoran Place when street is graded be dumped on the Schaefer lots located on Josephine avenue; that repairs be made in Winchell avenue at once as it was in bad condition.

Common Council.

The common council confirmed the special assessment to be levied for the construction of the sewer in Leavenworth Place.

Bills and claims were read and referred to the auditing committee and the council then adjourned.

No Broadcasting Of Big Concert

Hudson Valley Glee Clubs Concert Not to Go On the Air On Account of Complications.

The concert to be given in Reade's Kingston Theatre on Wednesday, May 18, by the Hudson Valley Glee Clubs will not be broadcast from Station WDBZ or any other station. So many inquiries are being received by members of the Mendelssohn Club and the committee in charge of the big concert, both from this city and from more distant points, that it seems best to make this definite announcement in order that there shall be no misconception on this point.

The committee in charge of the concert, which will be given by seven composed glee clubs with a total singing strength of more than three hundred male voices, has reached the decision not to broadcast only after considering the matter from every angle. It is realized that this decision will deprive many people who will be unable to attend the concert of much pleasure for there can be no question but that the coming concert will offer a musical treat as well as a distinct novelty to those fortunate enough to secure tickets, but the noise of complications which are unavoidable when an attempt is made to secure the permission of publishers, composers, etc., for the broadcasting of the selections which comprise the program has made it necessary to limit the enjoyment of this unique musical event to those who will actually be present.

Tickets will be placed on sale within the near future and if the advance demand for seats, both local and from the home cities of the different clubs, can be taken as any indication of what may reasonably be expected, Reade's Kingston Theatre will be crowded to the doors when this concert, the first of its kind ever attempted away from a really large city, takes place.

MAE WEST TAKEN TO WELFARE ISLAND

New York, April 20 (AP).—Mae West, star and co-author of "Sex" with two negroes and three white women as fellow passengers, left Jefferson Market women's prison today in a prison van for the workhouse on Welfare Island where she will serve nine days of the ten-day sentence imposed yesterday for giving an obscene play.

Clarence W. Morganstein, manager of the production, and James A. Timoney, are serving their ten-day sentences in the Tombs. Miss West and Timoney were fined $500 each. Failure to pay the fine will mean an additional day for each.

Nineteen others of the cast were given suspended sentences.

BRIDE'S TWO BROTHERS PERFORM CEREMONY

Troy, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—When Miss Esther King and Thomas Delaney, both of this city, were married this morning in St. Michael's Church, the ceremony was performed by two brothers of the bride, the Rev. Christopher J. King of Ravena, N. Y., and the Rev. James King of Athens, Ga., a brother of the groom, the Rev. Joseph A. Delaney of Troy, and a cousin of the bride, the Rev. Edward G. Dohan, of Greenwich. The last named imparted the nuptial blessing, which was carried to him by Cardinal Gasparri from Rome.

MAROLD BROSKI ARRESTED AND HEARING IS ADJOURNED

Harold Broski of 119 Tremper avenue was arrested by Officer Sachoff on Tuesday on a warrant obtained by Joseph Sheppard of Marlborough, who charged Broski with reckless driving. Sheppard claimed that on April 14 Broski cut across the corner of Broadway and Franklin street in such a manner as to cause a collision between Broski's Nash car and the Ford car of Sheppard. This morning the hearing was adjourned to April 26.

HANGS HIMSELF IN GUILTY NEAR HIS HOME

Cornwall, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Despondent because of ill health and financial reverses, Samuel McGowan, 74, who resides near Hammondport, ended his life by hanging in a sully near his home yesterday. His lifeless body was found by one of his employees who missed him.

McGowan was one of the best known vineyardists in the town of Cornwall and lived there practically all his life.

Passengers Safely Landed.

Sedney, N. S. W., April 20 (AP).—Two hundred and fifty passengers of the steamship Riverina, stranded aboard the vessel since it went aground last Saturday near Cape Howe, Victoria, were taken off safely today and landed on the beach.

Dies in Hospital After Fist Fight

Hollywood, Cal., April 20 (AP).—Paul Kelly, film jockey, faced a manslaughter charge today in connection with the death of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, on his own admission that he had engaged in a fist fight with the actor in a quarrel over Raymond's wife, Dorothy MacKaye, stage actress.

Raymond died at a hospital early yesterday after a bare knuckle fight with Kelly in the former's home Saturday night.

Details of the affair were not revealed until yesterday because Dr. Arthur Sullivan, who attended Raymond, signed a death certificate giving nephritic coma following Bright's disease as the cause of the actor's death. Raymond's body showed several cuts and bruises.

The arrest of Kelly, who is 27 years old, following an investigation by Captain of Detectives Herman Kline when he learned an attempt had been made to withhold the facts regarding Raymond's death.

Deputy District Attorney Ellis Eagen, after questioning Kelly, Miss MacKaye and other witnesses, announced he would request the issuance of a manslaughter complaint against the screen player today.

The prosecution said Kelly would be held on the manslaughter charge pending the outcome of a coroner's inquest tomorrow.

Kelly in a statement to police, told of the fight with Raymond and frankly professed to be in love with the actor's wife.

"I love Dorothy, I always have and always will," he said.

35 Indicted in Baseball Pool

Boston, April 20 (AP).—The names of 35 men of New York and western Massachusetts, secretly indicted by a federal grand jury here in connection with operation of a baseball pool, were made public today.

They are: James Otto, John Boyle, Oliver Staer, Samuel Blake, William Van Vaulkenburg, John Galvin, William Fringle, Daniel McMahon, John H. Kearney, Daniel O'Connor, John O'Connell, Arthur J. Malloy, Theodore J. R. Koenig, George W. Richardson, George Cardo, Miller Leonard, James Weedon, John J. Patalano, John Devine, George Lytle, James Devine, Fred Rooper, Edward F. Walsh, Jack Erskott, Roland Mullins, John Ant, Robert Burns, Nicholas Blaurock, Thomas Lynch, Robert Walsh, all of Albany; Walter J. Kane, of Troy, N. Y.; Charles Owens of North Adams; Harvey White, of Northampton; and Leonard Johnson and Bernard Connor of Springfield.

It was expected that they would be arraigned on charges of interstate shipment of lottery tickets this afternoon.

Well Known in Albany.

Albany, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Many of the 35 men indicted by a federal grand jury in Boston today in connection with operation of a pool are well known in this city.

John O'Connell, better known as "Solly" O'Connell, is proprietor of a billiard room and is a brother of Edward O'Connell, chairman of the Democratic City Committee. Another brother, Daniel O'Connell, is said to have been indicted but by error the name was handed down as Daniel O'Conner.

Oliver Staer is proprietor of the Majestic Theatre.

John J. Patalano is in the ice business. He formerly was a professional baseball player and in his youth was a Holy Cross College star.

William Fringle is an agent in the federal bureau of internal revenue.

John Boyle is a former member of the New York Assembly.

Chicago Will Move to Harley.

William S. Etkins of 21 John street has sold his residence property to Dr. H. P. Van Wageningen of 17 John street, whose property adjoins, and has purchased the Austin H. Free building at Harley. Mr. Etkins will take possession of his new home and move there immediately.

The building, which is of modern construction, is located just off the state highway in the village to the west.

Declares Butler's Attack Will Help

Bishop Leonard Says Nicholas Murray Butler's Attack on Prohibition Will Be Beneficial to the Dry Cause.

Oswego, April 20 (AP).—Bishop Adna W. Leonard, who is presiding at the 55th annual conference of the Northern New York District of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Fulton, today declared that Nicholas Murray Butler's attack on prohibition will be beneficial to the dry cause.

"The reaction to the attacks by the president of Columbia University will be felt by the Republican party and will bring the party closer together. Prohibition has made great progress throughout the country during the past year and is more firmly entrenched today than ever before."

The bishop declined to be quoted on the religious phase of the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith for the presidency.

Dr. George Mecklenberg of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of Washington, described the progress of the dry crusade in various European nations and declared that Austria can go dry in three years, if it desires to. He outlined plans for an anti-vice campaign to take in 3,000 newspapers in the United States. He said five radio stations will be available to broadcast prohibition addresses.

Eight students to be advanced and receive ordination from Bishop Leonard Sunday include: The Rev. William Lord of Mount Pleasant, Howard W. Woodman of Hamilton, Robert W. Anthony of New Haven, W. H. Brasse of Martinsburg, the Rev. A. Day Rich of Vermillion, E. R. Russell of Russell, St. Lawrence county, Mrs. Grace Smith of Hamilton and Mrs. Helen M. Graham of Utica.

PACIFIC COAST GAS WAR LOWERS NEW YORK PRICES

What the big oil companies said was the result of the "gas war" on the Pacific coast, where gasoline is selling as low as 12 1/2 cents a gallon, caused the price of gasoline in New York city on Wednesday to drop to a new level. Gasoline sold as low as 17 cents a gallon at independent distributing companies' stations and the price per gallon at the large distributing companies' stations was down to 13 cents. This drop in price, which normally has been 24 cents or more per gallon, was said to be due to the market conditions induced by the war on the west coast and particularly in California. This new low level may be expected to affect the entire market.

100 YEARS OLD, IS STILL A CRAFTY ANGLER

Cornwall, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Age means nothing to this youthful angler of Wellsville, Pa.

Stephen Yessa, reputed to be 108 years old—he celebrated his birthday in March—is one of the cunningest anglers in the northern tier of Pennsylvania, and long before the trout season opened he enjoyed the sport of hauling suckers out of Marsh creek when the ice still covered the stream. Now the trout beckon to him, but he is willing to give his companion sportsmen the choice of the streams and the pick of the fishing holes.

DIES IN HOSPITAL AFTER AUTO MISHAP

Cornwall, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Miss Ruth Sherman of Galeton, Pa., died in Blossburg, Pa., state hospital yesterday as the result of injuries received Monday night when the car in which she was riding ran into a log pile in the yard of the Guile & Windhackle basket factory at Gaines, Pa.

The car was owned and driven by Varyl Proouty of Williamsport, Pa., and with him was Miss Sherman, her sister and Miss Doris Herriman. Mr. Proouty and the other young women were only slightly injured.

Moreland Act Hearing Closed

Amsterdam, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—The Moreland act hearing into charges against Mayor Carl S. Salmon, District Attorney Andrew J. Culick and Sheriff Seely Hodges, ordered by Governor Smith after complaint had been filed with him against the three officials for alleged neglect of duty by the Rev. Thomas Adams, came to a close this morning before Supreme Court Justice Edward C. Whitmyre of Schenectady, commissioner named by the governor. Justice Whitmyre said it would be the middle of May before the minutes of the proceedings could be transcribed and he allowed the attorneys for the accused officials 20 days from the time they receive copies of the testimony in which to file briefs. His report to the governor will follow probably late in June.

The Rev. Dr. Carey S. Osborn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the last witness today. He said that from observation he found Amsterdam the cleanest city morally he had ever been in, judging only from the surface and citing places in the middle west where street soliciting was common by women.

Mayor Salmon was recalled for cross-examination when court reconvened this morning.

Flags Flying for First Constitution

There was a fine display of bunting throughout the city today, celebrating the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the first constitution of the state at Kingston on the 20th day of April, 1777.

Sheriff Rice appropriately placed two flags on the exact spot in front of the court house where that constitution was promulgated. Judge Clearwater and Captain Everett Fowler took a deep interest in inducing citizens and business houses to display their flags, and at the Judge's request, Mayor Dempsey ordered that in addition to the Nation's flag the beautiful flag of the city be displayed.

The monument of Governor Clinton in the First Dutch Church yard, was decorated suitably with flags.

Using Shovel as Weapon Cost $25

Herman Richter of the Boulevard, who is so crippled that he is forced to walk with the aid of a cane, was arrested Tuesday by the police on a warrant sworn out by Abram Baach, also of the Boulevard who claimed that Richter had assaulted him with a shovel, striking him over the head and body with it. After a trial in police court this morning Richter was found guilty and fined $25 by Judge Shufeldt.

Two More Levees Give Way to Rush Of Mississippi

Water Sweeps Through Clarendon, Where Lives Are Feared Lost—More Than 100 Listed Dead In Southwest—More Rain Forecast.

The persistent pressure of the Mississippi floods broke through two more levees today, and an indication that there would be no early slackening of the floods was seen in the weather bureau forecast rain or showers generally in the states affected.

Near north Little Rock a break in the Arkansas river levee flooded the town of Levy and let loose a flood of water to sweep down on North Little Rock. At Clarendon, another Arkansas town, the White river levee gave way suddenly and reports were received that numbers of persons had been caught in their homes.

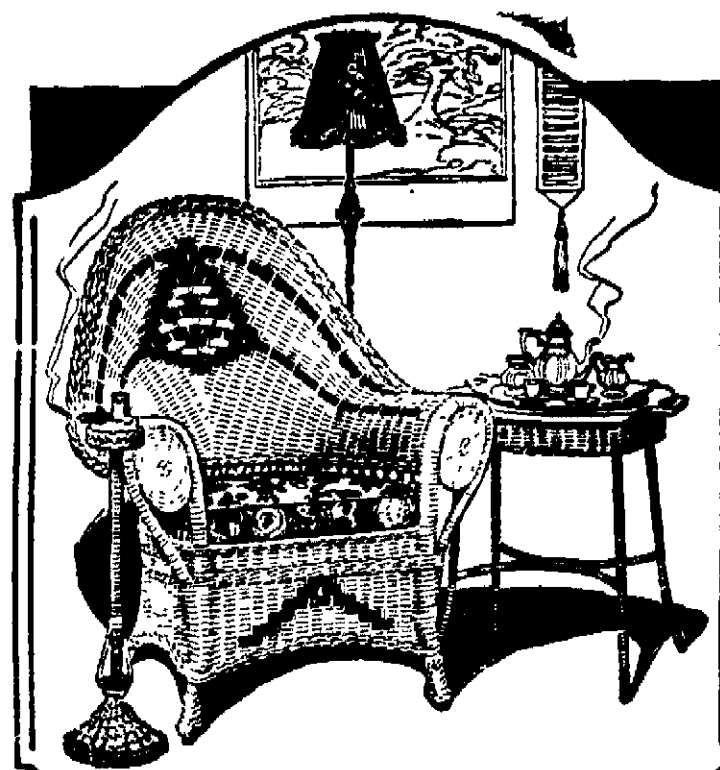

Water swept through Clarendon, a town of 3,500 inhabitants, with a roar that could be heard above the screams of women and children, and early reports said river craft were literally smashed to pieces against buildings. Fears were expressed that lives had been lost due to the suddenness of the break. The water was said to be 10 to 14 feet deep in parts of Clarendon.

Water Wall Eight Feet High

The wall of water that started toward north Little Rock was described as eight feet high and as it swept over the levee rescuers gave up work in boats getting out inhabitants who failed to heed the warning shriek or locomotive whistles.

More than three inches of rain fell at Little Rock in three hours this morning and there was another heavy rain at Pine Bluff. Fears were expressed that levees in that part of the state would go out and a citizens' committee began telephoning warnings to residents as far south as Dumas to evacuate their homes at once. The greatest danger was said to be at Varner, where the levee already has been weakened. A break there would flood most of Lincoln and Decha counties. At least a third of Pine Bluff was under water today and five schools were closed. A gasoline shortage was feared due to curtailed railroad

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 20, 1927.

Even the British radicals are reported to regard the Prince of Wales as "secure in his job." No doubt he enjoys great and wide-spread popularity, but there are rumors that the delay of the no longer so young Prince to get married is a source of increasing anxiety.

A New England farmer recently undertook a 100-mile trip in a buggy, desirous to experience again the pleasure he found in the same method of travel over the same route 42 years ago. Needless to say he not only missed the old-time wayside inns but the crowding motor-cars almost worried the life out of both him and his horse.

Birds are the cheapest, surest, safe-est, most attractive remedies for most insect infestations. It is more than sentiment that calls for bird protection; it is the knowledge that without them the country may be smothered by crawling, flying, burrowing bugs, insects and worms that birds would gladly destroy. If we'd only let the birds live.

RECKLESS TAIL-TWISTING.

No doubt many Chinese students in America have returned to their homeland with decreased respect for the British power for other reasons as well as their acquaintance with the American political practice of "twisting the lion's tail." Sir Aus-land Geddes may be right enough in believing that these returning students have added to the anti-British sentiment in China, but he shows recognition of the reason for the sentiment itself among the Chinese generally when he says that "the foreigner most in evidence was the Briton and therefore the movement became anti-British." Of course he did not add that the anti-foreign sentiment in awakening China is largely directed against the English because they have long had the most extensive grip on Chinese territory.
It is probable that the British Ambassador was partly influenced to say what he did by the reports of the recent election campaign in Chicago, but surely he is too observant and intelligent to accept "Big Bill" Thompson's amazing "anti-British outbreaks as in the least representative of American sentiment.

When Thompson charged that King George was trying to rule this country and declared that he would "bust him in the nose" if he did not stop it, the country in general laughed—at Thompson. No doubt even in Chicago the majority of the Republicans who voted for him (as the party's man) regarded his distastes of this sort as a joke. But even so, the British Ambassador could hardly be expected to find such a "joke" very pleasant, and it must be acknowledged that the British public has taken less notice of it than the American public would have done if a London or Manchester candidate for Mayor had tried to win votes by threatening to "bust Coolidge in the nose."

INTELLIGENCE ESSENTIAL.

Of all the countries in the world,
the United States seems to be progressing in a manner which gives its people the greatest advantages and prosperity. While other nations are struggling to secure a modest measure of the good things which we enjoy, we find individuals in our own country who belittle our methods of securing industrial development, high wages, reasonable hours, and working conditions and prosperity that has never before been equalled.

The danger is not in criticism and discontent expressed, but in permitting such attacks to go unanswered, and in failing to set forth and emphasize the advantages which we enjoy under a system of government which encourages individual initiative and enterprise, instead of crushing it with officialism and the dead hand of government ownership and control of productive resources.

Recent regulation of so-called "big business" is one thing; persecution of such business by government agencies is entirely another thing. There have been times in the past of political conscienceless, when so-called attempts to regulate business in this country ran close to persecution.
Fortunately, in all these instances,
the good judgment of the American people reacted against such proceedings.

We will always have scattering instances of business management which would take advantage of the public if not held in check by iron-clad laws. But it is unfair to business, whether it be big or little, to assume that such unscrupulous practices are generally followed. Isolated cases brought about drastic laws which today affect all business. Constructive regulation has been a great force in placing American industry on the sound basis it is today. The public recognizes these facts, and realizes that prosperity such as we enjoy cannot be secured or maintained under anything but a policy of fair dealing on the part of both the government and industry.

These statements may seem commonplace but they are fundamental.
Our people must recognize them, appreciate them and keep them in common practice in order to assure our future progress on a par with our past growth.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

FIRST ESSENTIAL IN SALESMANSHIP.

A large world wide corporation, with 1500 salesmen in the organization, took a professor from a university and setting him down in an office in the sales department said
"Go ahead and tell us what you find and what you would recommend."

He has been working at it now for a year, and the material upon which he works is the force of salesmen.

He has seen hundreds of them come and go, some successful, and others partial or absolute failures.

Perhaps the most tempting position to a high spirited individual is that of a salesman, the feeling that he can approach a customer, inspire him with curiosity as to his goods, overcome opposition, and later create a desire in him towards those goods.

This man was asked by a Saturday Evening Post writer as to what was the chief quality or characteristic, that enables a salesman to sell goods.

He replied, "I don't know the single factor, but it isn't magnetic personality. It isn't the gift of the gab, good looks, nor the knack of wearing clothes."

There are all important of course
"However if I were to rate the factors in the order of their importance I'd be tempted to give first place to health. I mean just normal good health, and along with it, healthful habits."

A salesman's first duty, it seems,
is to take good care of himself.

Now what is his first recommendation to his organization?

That before a salesman is employed he must undergo a physical examination.

This is all only good sense. You can readily see how a man in poor health will lose some of his courage on approaching a customer, will not have the persistence to meet opposition, arguments from the customer, and will lack the final punch to get the name on the dotted line.

As I have said before, ambition and brains can only take you as far as your body's health will let them take you.

So look after that body of yours.

HOME SERVICE PROGRAM

AT ROSENDALE FRIDAY.

On Friday afternoon, April 22, at 2:30 in the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation office at Rosen-dale, Miss Nellie Davenport, home service director, will open a home service program by giving a demonstration on "New salads that are especially suited to the spring season."

This program will be covered by a series of semi-monthly classes and will include salads, hot breads, cakes and icings, pies and pastries, correct cooking of vegetables, making tough meats tender, fancy cuts of meats, light breads, and the well planned meal.

The home service department is designed to help the housewife make her home more attractive and more efficient and to keep her menus more healthful and varied. These classes are made available without charge and all the women of the community are cordially invited to attend.

THE MORALIST
MORALIZES AGAIN

Bear is fifteen cents a glass uptown now, take it or leave it. Why?
Well there seems to be a great difference of opinion as to the reason for the increase of five cents per glass. Proprietors claim "the brewery," wherever and whatever that may be, jumped the price of beer four dollars on the barrel and of course the public must pay.

"The brewery," they say, declared it was not making any profit, but it certainly took a long time to find this out. Of course the prohibition agents were around here recently and whether that has anything to do with the higher priced beer is problematical.

It is softly whispered in "speak-easy places" that "the brewery" has had to meet strenuous demands to keep the wheels of the plant turning.

Anyway as soon as the dry agents disappeared the beer drinkers began to utter strange sounds among themselves and growl darkly at the brewery and prohibition agents in general.

The uptown saloons are losing trade and the downtown establishments, foreseeing the trend of affairs, have kept the price at ten cents, taking the loss out of their own pocket rather than lose their trade.

It certainly looks like prohibition has come to stay. The churches are ardently in favor of it and so are the numerous bootleggers. Then again the dry agents realize that if there were no prohibition, they would have to get another job. Money talks and the men in the backroom are not wont to say "let's have another"
quite so frequently as of yesterday.

THE MORALIST.

Babies Should Organize Everywhere we look we see under hand cradles being taken at children.
The Chart of Table Manners in the Woman's Home Companion says the
"should not be permitted to leave the table to play or read between courses."
If you can't give them this relief, then set a table for them in the kitchen which is really the secret room in the

CRIPPLED LAD GIVEN CHANCE

Newsboy Seized Eating Stolen Food in Grocery Gets Helping Hand.

Fort Worth, Texas.—John Pawlow, 17, a trill, blue-eyed Polish lad, has had a hard time most of his life.

John is a trill, blue-eyed Polish lad. His eyes are clear blue and his soft light hair hangs over regular, somewhat delicate features.

John hobbles along on a crutch, for he injured his left leg in the spokes of a wagon and gangrene set in, necessitating amputation.

Two years ago John's father and mother died in Philadelphia, Pa. They left enough money for a few months more of school and John went through the first year of high school.

There wasn't much work for a frail lad, clumsy with a crutch, and even selling newspapers in Philadelphia was a harder game than John could play, so he drifted southward and westward.

Same Story in Florida.

First he tried Florida, but it was the same story there. The agile newsboys sold all the papers. Something prompted John to go westward, to California, rosy pictures of which he had read in the papers.

He traveled as far as Fort Worth. The box car in which he rode stopped in the T. & P. yards. The bright windows of a grocery store shone nearby. John was hungry. He hadn't had food for days.

A special officer found John in the grocery store, the door of which had been pried open. John was eating from a can of pork and beans. He was taken to the city jail.

John rode in the emergency wagon to the district attorney's office.

"Sure hate to see him fled on," said Lonnie Wilkerson, patrol wagon driver.

Assistant District Attorney Hal McConnell placed a blank complaint in a typewriter "to take the case." He began questioning John. The crippled boy cried as he unfolded his story, closing with his confident hopes that the next city and California would be different from the places behind him.

"I can't take this complaint," said McConnell, and he took John into the office of District Attorney Martin. The story was retold there. Officials squirmed uneasily as the lad fixed his sad eyes on them.

John knew that it was wrong to break into a store, but he had been hungry, so hungry that pork and beans were a banquet feast for him. Martin asked him what he was going to do.

"I'll go on to San Francisco," he said with a note of hope still in his voice.

Wilkerson and Martin conferred at one side, and after a few minutes Martin came back to where John slumped in the grimy, soggy clothes that he had worn day and night for weeks.

Gets Chance in Fort Worth.

"Mr. Wilkerson wants to take you to his home until Monday, and clean you up so you can start selling papers here," Martin told the lad, and pressed a $5 bill into John's hand.

"We want to give you this chance," Martin told him. "We are not going to file the case unless you force us to later."

A few minutes later John hobbled out on his worn crutch to the patrol wagon with Wilkerson. Next day he had his "chance" on the streets of Fort Worth as a new newsboy.

Keeps Her Home Ready for Coming of Christ.

Auburn, N. Y.—It is labeled on a big sign The Capitol of the World, but to the hundreds who daily pass the green structure at Orchard and Jefferson streets it is known as the House of the Thirteen Doors.

Twelve of the doors apparently lead to the apartments of tenants, but the thirteenth, that at the top of an outside stairway, gives access to the rooms of the owner, Mrs. Harriet A. Phelps, a native of the village of Leek and for forty of her seventy-two years a resident of Auburn. She has a simple religious belief, outwardly expressed in signs proclaiming her home not only the capitol of the world, but also as the site of the Thorne waiting room.

To her neighbors Mrs. Phelps is an industrious, kindly woman, given to good deeds for the neighbors and as a worker who has toiled at various occupations during her lifetime to acquire the money wherewith to purchase the Capitol and two other houses.

To her neighbor Mrs. Phelps is the last prophet of the world, a man between heaven and earth, and she appears to believe that at the dawn of the millennium Christ will return, appearing at the house Mrs. Phelps keeps to await his coming.

The white-haired, kindly woman, with her little and her can, keeps vigil in their own rooms of the night, on which the house stands. She has been here for her belief that Christ will return, but she is not interested of the beliefs of others.

Mrs. Phelps evidently seems as following, nor does she attempt to impress her beliefs upon others. To her the big sign on the house is simply the outward acknowledgment of her faith.

DIG INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF COSMETICS SINCE WAR

Value of Perfumes and Toilet Preparations Made in United States Placed at $141,468,000

New York.—The output of perfumes and toilet preparations in the United States has multiplied six times in the last ten years, according to a summary of progress made public by the American Chemical Society.

Chinese women, it was disclosed, are rebelling against native products and are buying American wares to enhance the beauty of their hair and nails.

The area of United States manufacture is confined almost wholly to Eastern and Midwestern states, New York being far in the lead, with Illinois second. The number of plants is between 500 and 600.

Two prominent causes of expansion are "the much greater addiction of girls and women to cosmetics of all kinds than before the war," and "the rise of artificial and synthetic aromatic compounds."

Creams, rouges, etc., according to the latest figures available, rank first in annual value, their production aggregating $34,178,000. Dentifrices are second with $25,496,000. Other classes are rated as follows in a total output of $141,468,000:

Talcum and other toilet powders, $21,423,000; perfumery and toilet waters, $20,544,000; hair tonics, $9,480,000; hair dyes, $1,616,000; other cosmetics and toilet preparations not reported by kind, $6,067,000.

"Our foreign sales of face powders, rouges, creams, etc., have developed promisingly in Latin American countries, led by Cuba," says the summary.

"Men as well as women in these countries are much given to the use of various scents and lotions, and the market possibilities are correspondingly increased."

"In the Far East, Japan has been gradually becoming familiar with our toilet creams and powders, and the American colony in the Philippines has made our trade with those islands of some importance."

"The specialty of the United States, in which it holds the acknowledged leadership in practically all markets, is dentifrices."

"Last year we supplied the world with dentifrices valued at $3,382,000. By far our best customer for these articles ordinarily is England, which takes nearly a third of the total."

Sea Tragedy's of '60s

Bared in Legislature

St. Paul, Minn.—A tale of a clipper ship that went down in the China sea in the late '60s with loss of all on board save a baby, who grew to manhood and died in Minnesota without known heirs, was related to the state senate finance committee.

A delegation of citizens from Currie, Minn., appeared before the committee to indorse a bill providing that the $3,500 estate left by the survivor of the disaster be turned over to the town.

The identity of the ship that sank was never learned, the committee was told, but the crew of a whaling vessel which ran into pieces of the wreckage found the baby washed to the shore.

The whaler took the infant to Korea. When he was twelve years old he came to the United States as a cabin boy on a ship and eventually drifted to Currie, where he took the name of William Hendricks. He never was able to learn who his parents were nor how he came to be on the ship.

Child Artists in Paris

Becoming More Numerous

Paris.—Child art is increasingly common in Paris exhibitions.

Lately there have been displays devoted entirely to the younger set. The latest of these displayed water-colors by children from eight to eleven years old from all over France.

Some critics say they see much fine art in the young idea. Others are more conservative. All agree the children do remarkably well for their age. A few caustic ones observe that a child of ten should have little difficulty in producing things as easy to look at or to understand as many pictures made by their elders that get wall space in the large exhibitions.

Mark Historic Spots

London.—Simple, artistic road signs revealing hidden historical treasures of English villages and towns are being erected throughout the country.

This Woman Insists

That Her Age Is 100

Constantinople.—The Turkish feminist movement has reached the stage where even the claim to being the oldest living Turk has been taken from the more men who long held it. Zaro Agha, whose age is given as one hundred and thirty-three years, has ceded his longevity title to Fatma Hasebi, who has just arrived at Angora from the Thracian wilds, claiming her age to be one hundred and sixty years.

Fatma Hasebi's ten children are dead, but she has many great-grandchildren living and one four-year-old great-grandson.

Grow "California" Grapes in East

Already Feasible for Amateurs. May Have Commercial Possibilities, Says Horticulturist at Geneva Experiment Station.

Geneva, N. Y., April 29.—The East may grow its own "California" grapes in the not very distant future if cultural methods can be perfected which would make their production commercially profitable. This is the opinion of the horticulturist at the Experiment Station here where "California" grapes, or European grapes as they are known to professional horticulturists, have been fruiting on the station grounds for several years.

The successful production of Malaga, Tokay, and Hamburg, so much in demand on the fruit stands in eastern cities, is already within the reach of the amateur fruit grower or those who cater to the roadside trade or to local markets. The station horticulturist, Carlisle, modifications of ordinary vineyard management to provide protection of the vines against winter injury, makes this possible, it is said. Grafted on Native Stocks.

"The attempt to grow European grapes at Geneva was first made in 1911 when about 100 varieties of these excellent grapes were grafted on roots of native varieties in the station vineyard," says the horticulturist. "These grapes have been fruiting in our vineyards each year since then. In the light of this experience we are in a position to make a much better selection of root stocks and of varieties than we were at first and could now make combinations which would undoubtedly give better results."

"Three things are essential in growing European grapes successfully in the East. First, the vines must be protected against winter injury. This can be done by modifying somewhat the usual cultural operations, and is estimated to have cost from two to three cents per vine in the station vineyard. Second, root stocks must be selected which will insure freedom from the grape phylloxera. Third, insect pests and diseases must be guarded against by proper spraying."

"Whether or not European grapes will ever be grown commercially in the East remains to be seen. It is entirely practical, however, to grow these excellent grapes in a small way for home use or even for local markets or the roadside stand."

LEAGUE PRICE A RECORD FOR MARCH

League farmers will receive a base net pool price of $2.60 per 100 pounds for their March milk, according to official announcement made by the Association in its report of March business. This is the highest March pool price in the history of the organization. On the basis of milk testing 3.5 butter fat, previous March net pool prices have been as follows:

1926, $2.42; 1925, $2.46; 1924, $2.00; 1923, $2.33; 1922, $1.89.

The official reports of milk handled were not complete at the time of the announcement but the officials estimate that the total amount handled in March will exceed that of March a year ago by at least 3,000,000 pounds. The approximate March total for this year is 186,000,000 pounds.

It was stated that up to and including April 14th, 787 new pooling contracts had been received by the Association since April 1, the beginning of the League's current fiscal year. 572 of these were received during the week ending April 14, marking that period as one of the high spots in League history for new contracts received.

Maggies
 A magpie is somewhat intermediate between jays and crows and closely related to both. It is the genus Pica, the species of which are known wherever English is spoken. In size and coloration magpies resemble small crows, while in many other respects they are more like the jays. Their most prominent external character is the long, graduated tail, which is sometimes longer than head and body together, and the outer feathers of which are scarcely half the length of the middle pair. The best-known species of the genus is the common magpie of Europe (Pica pica).

Cinderella Ball And Mardi Gras

Elaborate Program Arranged for Big Event at Armory Friday Night—Specialties and Vaudeville Numbers Included.

An elaborate program will be presented by Miss Helen Cashin and Vincent Van Bramer at the big Cinderella Ball and Mardi Gras which will be held at the state armory on Friday evening of this week. Seven specialties and vaudeville numbers have been arranged and some of the best juvenile talent in Kingston will take part. Many of the children who have shown exceptional talent in various dance numbers have never before appeared in public, and judging from the interest that has been shown at rehearsals the public will be entertained by new sensations on Friday evening when the ball gets under way.

Starting with the famous Cinderella court of more than 100 attendants, Cinderella and Prince Charming will appear to reveal their identity. These charming rulers of fairyland will swing into a dainty dance number, and the big ball will be under way. Four orchestras will furnish the music for dancing which will follow immediately. The specialties and vaudeville will be carried through the evening between dance numbers. People who don't dance and those who do will find much to entertain them. The Mardi Gras features of the ball will prove a source of enjoyment for young and old, and indications are that there will be a large attendance at the great spring festival of dance, entertainment, fun and melody.

The program follows:

8:00 o'clock—Grand Entrance and Promenade of Cinderella and Prince Charming. Their identity revealed.

Court Attendance for Cinderella and Prince Charming.

Specialties and Vaudeville Acts, arranged by Vincent Van Bramer and Miss Helen Cashin.

Howard Kinch and Miss Elsie Gleason in sensational classic dance. Students of Vincent Van Bramer.

The Van Bramer Girls: Regina Partian, Mary Murphy, Mary Hanley, Estelle Mohr, Grace Berryman, Eleanor Kerney, Robina Rundell, Frances Klein, Viola Porter, Loretta Macholdt, Beatrice Binkley, Helen Hudson. (These girls have never before appeared before an audience. Their ages range from 12 to 14 years. Trained for this specialty by Vincent Van Bramer.)

Miss Flo Vint in eccentric dance. Trained by Vincent Van Bramer.

Toe Dance, Margie Lockwood. Trained by Miss Helen Cashin.

Acrobatic Dance, Ella Mae Longtree. Trained by Miss Helen Cashin.

Jeans and Jeanette Betty Eastcott, Evelyn Klein, Ellen Ryan. Trained by Miss Helen Cashin.

Eccentric Dance, Margie Lockwood, Lillian Woerner, Lou Sangevine, Rita Tucker, Florence Knecht, Ella Mae Longtree, Virginia Minasian, Elizabeth Tiney. Trained by Miss Helen Cashin.

Orchestras—Otto's Blue Ridge Serenaders, Jack Erbe's Imperial Broadcasting Orchestra, Cinderella's Own Band, Mardi Gras Augmented Orchestra.

The "Miss Kingston" Committee is composed of Mayor Edward Dempsey, Sheriff Arthur Rice, former Alderman Henry Macholdt, Miss Helen Cashin, Vincent Van Bramer. "Miss Kingston" will be awarded a handsome silver loving cup by Oppenheimer Brothers, jewelers, of 578 Broadway.

South African Native
Strong for Courtesy

Business instinct is strong in the nature of the natives of the Union of South Africa, as is indicated by a letter received by the conductor of a column of editorial comment in the Natal Mercury, published at Durban. The letter:

"Dear Madam—I would much pleased to let me know about your health. I am still in sound health, wishing you the same.

"Then Madam, I have one thing to tell you. I have bought nice six hens very fat, too. I would be pleased if Mrs. can let me know whether she would like me to send her those fowls, each is 35 cents, very cheap, Madam. They are ready and please let your friends know about this. If there are some who would like me to send them fowls. I am gladly willing to do so. Please send my best regards to you and your family—I may remain, your humble servant."

Tried to Be Tactful
She dabbed in water colors and was rather proud of the results, also her complexion was at the same time, both the envy of her friends and the object of many admiring remarks.

At a dinner party on one occasion she sat next a shy, awkward young man who collected his brains in vain for something to say.

She took pity on him and tried to open conversation by remarking: "I dare say you've heard that I painted."

"I yes," he stammered looking at her face lazily, "but I really don't believe it."

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

PINK WITH YELLOW AND PINK WITH MAUVE BECOME INTERESTING COLOR SCHEMES—DEGRADE EFFECTS IN MOST COLORS, BUT ESPECIALLY IN BLUE, ARE THE MODE.

New York.—As everyone must know, it is a season when color harmonies are of more than usual interest and when rather daring color schemes are attempted. Few dress-makers would attempt to use gold and orchid, yet one of the loveliest evening dresses of the season was of a rich warm golden velvet, its several panels and one side of its long scarf being lined with orchid, the deeper shade of the flower-tone almost identical with the deeper petals of that exotic flower. One has only to study an old-fashioned garden to be convinced that all colors may be blended in harmony by nature, but few of us possess the gift to do the extraordinary in color blending. This season gives one courage to persist in one's efforts.

Mention has been made of the interesting use of certain shades of pink and yellow, to say nothing of pink and blue. Several really lovely dresses have been worn recently which combine the variegated tones of the versatile sweet pea.

One lovely frock in memory was of soft lavender satin, its side-draped skirt having a wide band of soft pink satin set in below the hips. This color was repeated for one side of a shoulder scarf that made a graceful streamer down the back from the left shoulder, where a rhinestone and amethyst pin was the only ornament.

In these days of elaborate trimming, it is refreshing to see a simple, practically untrimmed dress. Many sports dresses depend on a combination of color and fabric for their decorative feature, but there are comparatively few that boast no other trimming. Two tones, or even three of one color, are frequently employed this season, this degrade effect being noted perhaps more often in blue than in any other color, and blue, be it known, is one of the season's best shades.

Seek Treasure Trove in Bermuda Islands

A touch of romance is given to Bermuda by traditions of buried treasure which abound there. Several of the islands are said to have been used by the Spaniards in early times for hiding their surplus wealth, notably Ireland Island, now a British naval station; Cooper's Island, near the old town of St. George's, and Spanish Point, two miles from Hamilton. Accounts of golden crosses and pieces of eight having been found along the shore still exist in ancient records. On one occasion a number of Spanish gold coins were discovered at a spot afterward called Money Place Rock. It is known that in the early days of Atlantic navigation galleons, often richly loaded, used Bermuda as a landmark while on their way from South America and the West Indies to Spain by way of the Azores. Owing to the existence of many coral reefs off the Bermuda coast, these vessels were occasionally wrecked, and now lie beneath the coral formations of past centuries. In some instances it is possible that treasure was salvaged and buried.

Not many years ago an American visitor is said to have discovered a hidden vault at Spanish Point, and after his departure for New York an empty space and drill holes were noticed by people living near by. Whether he really found a treasure hoard remains a mystery.

OLD-FASHIONED DISHES

Potato Biscuit.—Take one cupful of mashed potato, one cupful of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter and one of lard and one-half cupful of milk. Mix and toes on a floured board. Cut into small biscuits and place in a greased baking pan and bake twelve to fifteen minutes.

The old recipe handed down from generation to generation often lack the flavor or seasoning which was present in the original. We all feel that no mince pie tastes quite like that which mother used to make. Each cook adds a touch of something which makes the dish individual, therefore it is often difficult, unless every small detail is followed, to produce the dish with its real charm.

Most of us have had experience in getting some delightful dish pinned down to proper measurements which can be followed by anyone who reads a recipe intelligently. With bowls, spoons and cups of varying sizes as well as pinches by different fingers, it is small wonder that it is hard to follow an old-fashioned recipe. These days with standard measuring cups and spoons we should be able to pass on a satisfactory recipe.

Suet Pudding.—Take one cupful each of molasses, sour milk and chopped suet. Add three and one-half cupfuls of flour, one cupful of raisins or other dried chopped fruit, two eggs well beaten and spices to taste. Add a teaspoonful of soda and steam two hours in baking powder cans.

Sauce for Suet Pudding.—Separate the yolks and whites of two eggs; beat the yolks and add one cupful of sugar, mix until the sugar is all dissolved, then add one cupful of hot milk and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Flavor and serve at once on the hot suet pudding.

A blessing of glad content, And so, though skies may frown or smile, Be diligent day by day, Rewards will greet you after a while. If you just keep working away.

OLD-FASHIONED DISHES

Potato Biscuit.—Take one cupful of mashed potato, one cupful of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter and one of lard and one-half cupful of milk. Mix and toes on a floured board. Cut into small biscuits and place in a greased baking pan and bake twelve to fifteen minutes.

The old recipe handed down from generation to generation often lack the flavor or seasoning which was present in the original. We all feel that no mince pie tastes quite like that which mother used to make. Each cook adds a touch of something which makes the dish individual, therefore it is often difficult, unless every small detail is followed, to produce the dish with its real charm.

Most of us have had experience in getting some delightful dish pinned down to proper measurements which can be followed by anyone who reads a recipe intelligently. With bowls, spoons and cups of varying sizes as well as pinches by different fingers, it is small wonder that it is hard to follow an old-fashioned recipe. These days with standard measuring cups and spoons we should be able to pass on a satisfactory recipe.

Suet Pudding.—Take one cupful each of molasses, sour milk and chopped suet. Add three and one-half cupfuls of flour, one cupful of raisins or other dried chopped fruit, two eggs well beaten and spices to taste. Add a teaspoonful of soda and steam two hours in baking powder cans.

Sauce for Suet Pudding.—Separate the yolks and whites of two eggs; beat the yolks and add one cupful of sugar, mix until the sugar is all dissolved, then add one cupful of hot milk and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Flavor and serve at once on the hot suet pudding.

Lessons in Happiness
Devote your greatest concern to others and you will find the spring of happiness is in your front yard.—Alexander City (Ala.) Outlook.

Body odor is so unpardonable

Why risk it—when it's so easy to banish?

WE notice body odor instantly in others, yet cannot always tell when we offend.

For even when we aren't conscious of perspiring, the pores constantly give off odor-causing moisture.

Don't take needless chances—use Lifebuoy! Millions bathe with it daily, for it is so refreshing and gives lasting freedom from body odor.

Lifebuoy's clean, hygienic scent—which quickly evaporates after rinsing—tells you it gives greater safety. Yet Lifebuoy costs so little. It is orange-red, the color of its pure palm-fruit oils. Get it today.

Catholics Start Charity Drive

The week of May 1 to May 9 has been set by Cardinal Hayes for the annual appeal for the two hundred charitable institutions included in the general organization known as Catholic Charities. These institutions minister to the needs of the poor, the sick, the wayward, the aged and the young.

Sixteen thousand lay workers will constitute the committee which will visit every Catholic home in the archdiocese in the territory between Staten Island and Kingston, directed by Cardinal Hayes himself, with the assistance of three hundred and fifty priests this committee will appeal for donations to a fund of more than one million dollars necessary to continue the work of the organization.

Ten million dollars a year is the budget necessary to maintain all Catholic charitable activities. This budget is met by funds secured through public and private channels. In addition a special fund of one million dollars is annually raised to provide for unification and all the special purposes fostered by the general headquarters at 477 Madison avenue, New York city.

The Right Rev. John J. Dunn, D. D., has been appointed the official director of the campaign. He will be assisted by the Rev. Robert F. Keegan and the Rev. Edward A. Hayes.

Cardinal Hayes plans to take a very active part in the work of raising the appeal fund. On April 21 he will address a distinguished gathering of Catholic professional and business men at the Hotel Roosevelt. It is expected that more than one thousand representative laymen will respond to the invitation that has been sent them by the trustees of Catholic Charities.

In addition to his speech to the representatives of each parish, Cardinal Hayes will broadcast a personal appeal to the million and a quarter members of his flock through Radio Station WJVL on the night of April 24th. A final speech setting the note of the campaign will be made to a committee of five thousand workers who will gather in the Cathedral to hear the Cardinal on May 1st.

Catholic Charities Headquarters made known today that 256,691 members were secured last year in the house to house campaign and that these members provided a fund of $1,103,327.

"The Youngest" will be presented in the auditorium of the New Paltz Normal School on Tuesday, May 2. The curtain will rise at 8:15 promptly and the presentation of a production which will please the aim of all connected with the cast as well as the officials who have coached the play. Miss Gladys Edwards has devoted much of her time to the directing of the play and Bruce Bennett of the Normal School faculty has offered many helpful suggestions which will tend to make "The Youngest" more thrilling. Tickets for the play are on sale at Gregory's drug store, New Paltz.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

New York—Charles M. Schwab's ideal of American manhood is John Markle, veteran anthracite operator, whose motto is "I would rather fight than eat", and who proposes to devote his millions to promote the welfare of mankind. At a dinner of the Pennsylvania Society, Mr. Schwab said of the guest of honor: "You stand for my ideal of American manhood, you have always tried to appear as a roughneck sort of fellow, but beneath your rugged exterior I know there is a heart of gold."

Philadelphia—Mlle. Aynata Alexeyeva, Russian ballet dancer, thinks she knows why her art was not appreciated when "Carmen" was presented by the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company. In an intermission she went before the curtain and denounced American jazz and other habits and advised the audience to stop drinking and obey the law. Then she came the general manager with an apology and an announcement that Mlle. had been discharged.

New York—Financial questions seem to arise when ex-royalties come visiting. Ernest Heinrich, former prince of Saxony, denied he was trying to sell a royal collection of tapestries. He insisted his trip was to put the finances of his house on a sound basis along American lines. Prince and Princess Paul Chavasyada of Russia denied they were going into the movies.

Atlantic City—Al Smith is delighted over the gift of "gems" from Governor Baldwin of Idaho. "I am glad it's not a lot of fangdang jewelry," he remarked on opening a red cedar chest, "because I wouldn't have known what to do with it. I can eat these." The "gems" were potatoes.

Tashkent, Russian Turkestan—Nicholas Nazarov, 16, is a prodigy. He is a full-fledged lecturer in mathematics at Tashkent University, having completed in four years courses that ordinarily take ten. He entered the university when ten years old.

New York—Dogs seem to prefer brunettes. Jane Walker, star of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" will be laid up two weeks as the result of a bite by a friend's chow. Her hair is dark naturally.

Newark, N. J.—It's a good thing for this state that U. S. Steel decided to increase its capital stock. The fee going to the state treasury was $40,664.

Firemen's Ball At Armory May 11

Wednesday evening, May 11, is the date set for the annual firemen's ball at the armory. Again this year there will be two orchestras to furnish music, Malsenholder's 12 piece outfit and Paul Zucca's 12 piece orchestra. There is great rivalry between these two local bands to carry off honors for the best dance music and this year as last season the very best of music may be expected.

The firemen's ball is given under the auspices of Cord's Hose, Excelsior Hose and Rapid Hose, the three companies which will divide the proceeds and devote the money to pay the cost of the trip to attend the annual convention and parade of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association at Poughkeepsie in June.

Last year the ball was a huge success and again this year the fire ladders are anticipating a good time and a large attendance. Plans are being made for an even greater crowd than last year.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Stylish Dress. 5686. This attractive model has a "hip band" blouse lengthened by tunic portions. It is mounted on an underslip.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size will require 3 yards of figured 40 inch material together with 2 1/2 yards of contrasting material for the slip, and facings on hip bands, collar and cuffs. It made as illustrated. The width of the slip at the lower edge is 1 1/2 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1927 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies' misses' and children's patterns, a complete and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Cow's Long Journey

Dogs and cats often refuse to recognize their transfer from one owner to another, returning again and again to their old homes. Now and then a cow will do the same thing.

Recently a farmer near Conway, in North Wales, sold his cow into Denbighshire. Next morning she was found in her old home, waiting to be milked.

She must have crossed Conway river, walked through Conway town, and leaped a four-foot wall to get there.

Open Sesame

Sesame is a word of three syllables, that is, the final letter "e" is sounded. In one of the tales of the "Arabian Nights"—All Baba and the Forty Thieves—"Open Sesame" are the magic words which cause the cave door of the forty thieves to open by itself. "Shut Sesame" were the words which caused it to shut. Sesame is a grain, and hence, when Cassim forgot the word, he cried, "Open what? Open rye! Open barley!" but the door obeyed no sound but "Open Sesame."

Beethoven's Castle Britain

An interesting estimate of Beethoven has been recently discovered in Baden near Vienna. It is a memorial tablet which is believed to be known as the greatest composer ever lived in the castle Britain at Allstrasse No. 2. This is a small country building erected in 1810 by the Polish scholar Ossinski. In the simple style of architecture, the building was being renovated when the tablet was discovered. It will again be put in place.

Radio Marches Ahead with Giant Strides; Years of Progress Are Being Crowded Into Short Months

The magic looking glass of wonderland will soon seem drab and dull compared to the television radio of the future

Four important radio events thus far are making 1927 a memorable year in radio. From the station at Whippany, N. J., shown above, the first public television programme was broadcast. The family gathering around the radio may soon be as the artist has pictured it. In Cincinnati Professor S. I. M. Allen announced the invention of a metal disc he predicts will eliminate radio tubes. He is shown holding one of his devices. In Little Rock, Ark., the street car shown was operated by radio control from a moving automobile. At McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, Captain Paul A. Edwards, inset, right, announced a modification of the beam signal, by which communication may be established with flying planes in much the same way as an automatic telephone call is made.

WASHINGTON (U-I-N Special).—The marvel of radio was not alone in that it opened up a new field of science, but equally in the rapidity in which the field was explored in its early days. And yet today progress is going ahead faster than it ever has before. The year is still young, but four important strides have been taken. The most far-reaching is the introduction of television. This phase has been discussed for some time. Various scientists announced that they had discovered the secret. But it was not until April 7, 1927—remember the date—that it was put to a practical public test. On that date a programme was broadcast for Whippany, N. J., and was heard and seen in the American Telephone and Telegraph laboratory in New York. Engineers do not promise that every home may soon be equipped with instruments to receive pictures out of the air. But beyond a doubt that day is coming with a speed that perhaps the engineers themselves underestimate. Important steps are being taken in the use of the "beam control" of radio waves, and the use of radio control over distant motive power. Captain Paul A. Edwards, of the United States Signal Corps Laboratory at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, has created a dial, similar to those used on automatic telephones, by which it is now possible for an officer on the ground to call a plane just as a phone number is called. Captain Edwards modified the beam signal somewhat to arrive at his "aerial switchboard" invention. Within a few days of the announcement of Captain Edwards' scheme, a street car was operated through the streets of Little Rock, Ark., by distant radio control. Maurice J. Francill, operating a portable radio broadcasting station from a moving automobile, piloted the car through the streets. A small box caught the signals and operated the car. State officials and technical experts rode in the motorless car. Meanwhile, improvement of radio receiving sets is continuing. Mr. Allen are becoming antiquated almost as fast as they are built. The latest and perhaps the most far-reaching announcement in this field was made by Professor S. I. M. Allen, of Cincinnati, who declares that a small metal disc that he has perfected may be substituted for any electronic, vibrating or bulb type of rectifier, and which may eliminate vacuum tubes. Meanwhile, for every engineer working when radio first became public property there is now a thousand. Just as radio of fifteen years ago appears crude today, so will radio of today appear tomorrow.

Coke Production

Coke is the solid left when a caking coal is deprived of its volatile constituents by heating in a retort or oven. It consists mainly of carbon, is hard, porous and grayish, with a submetallic luster.

Writing on Glass

An ink for writing on glass is prepared by dissolving ten parts of shellac in 75 parts of warmed methylated spirit. To this are added 18 parts of borax mixed with 125 parts of water and 0.5 grammes of methylene violet.

Patterned Tile

The word "encaustic" means "burned in," and encaustic tile is an earthenware tile having a pattern in different colors, made with different colored clays inlaid in the tile and fired with it.

Navy's Small Beginning

On March 11, 1794, an act was passed by congress authorizing the building of six warships. This marked the founding of the United States navy, which was eventually to be the strongest in the world.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Thursday, April 21.

The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra will open the program of radio highlights for Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock with a concert of classical music. Fifteen minutes later, a Passover celebration under the auspices of the United Synagogue of America will be offered by WNY. The main feature of this broadcast will be an oratorio of Jewish music by the pupils of the Hebrew High School Philadelphia Talmud Torah. Hans Hart, pianist and Arcadio Birkenholz, concert violinist, will play a number of selections by Mendelssohn before the microphones of WEA, WGR, WFI, WJW and KND at 8:30. At the same time the Arion Male Chorus will harmonize for the benefit of those tuning to WJZ and KDKA, and the comic opera "Tom Jones" will be broadcast by the Canadian stations, CNEO, CNEH and CNIQ. Two gleeful clubs will be on the air at 9:00; the Elizabeth Eika Band and Glee Club from WGR, and the University College Glee Club from WIP. New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California will be better with music at 9:30—Recent songs (talk, "Biography," 7:30—Newburyport musical clubs, 8:00—Players program, 9:00—Our Musical U. S. with WJZ, KYYW and KSD at 9:00. Wendell Hall, the redheaded musician and the composer of "It Ain't Going to Rain No More" will sing several of his own selections from WJZ at 10:00.

Tagging Major League Bases

In a big league pennant race the top team is not much more than the bottom of a bat's head of the club on the outside of the New York Yankees. I inform you actually today.

Breaking down the situation through seven years, the leaders of the pennant circuit feel as potent as Achilles. Yesterday, then, somebody reached the base with a barefoot and a bat and a head on the heel.

When the night finally fell, it was the Boston Red Sox who did the tagging and it was then first in seven years as it was the Yankees first in seven years.

The scene was a 6 to 2 first inning. The scene was a 6 to 2 first inning. The scene was a 6 to 2 first inning.

And the rest of the day was produced not by the bats of Ruth and his fellow heavy hitters, but by the good left hand of young Hal Wiltz. That sure hand was strong and out of it the Yankees could get but one hit and the Sox could and did—do as well as that themselves.

Indeed, the Sox broke a string of 12 straight losses without an error when Koenig fumbled a fast ball for his own first double of the day.

Pair of Aces That May Win Flag

The photograph shows Ty Cobb, at left, and his new boss, Connie Mack, at the playing field at Ft. Myers, Fla., where the Philadelphia Athletics train for the championship race in the American league.

Has Good Chance to Break All Records

Bill Carrigan, returning to baseball this year, has a chance to break all records of all time by taking the Red Sox into the pennant.

Boston finished a bad last again in 1926.

It is not much of a team, but Carrigan is much of a manager. He is regarded as the best who ever led an American league team.

It has always been said that no man can win a pennant unless he has the players, and it must be admitted that Carrigan has less playing talent on his Boston roster than any rival manager has at his command.

If Carrigan can dash out of last place he will be doing better than 99 out of 100 managers could do with the same baseball timber.

If Carrigan should win a pennant this year then one may well say that the day of miracles is with us again.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Babe Ruth wanted $100,000 for a season of what he quaintly calls work.

A veteran baseball player is one who has been absorbed by both leagues.

Ben Egan, coach of the Chicago White Sox last season, has been made coach of the diamond artists at Georgetown university.

"Lefty" Groves, Connie Mack's pitching pride, won second honors in a live-pigeon shooting match held recently at Lonsdale, Md.

The Wichita Falls (Kan.) baseball club has erected a clubhouse at the ball grounds in which unmarried players may live free of charge.

Victor Sorrell of the Toronto Leafs was the only undefeated pitcher last season in the International league, winning eight games and losing none.

Pitcher Lefty Darrough is again with the Dallas team of the Texas league, having been turned back to the Steers by the Philadelphia Athletics.

"I'll let them know the old batting eye is as keen as ever," Zach Wheat is reported by a Philadelphia paper as saying. Presumably with the informative double.

Lyman Ripperton, veteran third baseman, has been signed to manage the Palestine team of the new Lone Star league. He played with Palestine last summer.

Manager Derrill Pratt of the Waco team of the Texas league has signed Pitcher Harold Elliott and Catcher Vern Edgar, both former members of the University of Michigan team.

Matty Albro, former Lincoln (Neb.) high school player, has signed with Moline of the Mississippi Valley league. He is a right-handed batter and can play almost any position.

Pitcher John Berly, big right-hander, who helped pitch Spartanburg to a pennant in 1925, has been repurchased by that club. Berly was with Wichita of the Western league, last spring.

Julian Wern, St. Paul shortstopper, who is being watched by the Yankees this spring, is considered by Bob Connerly, Yankee ivory hunter, as the best prospect of the year to reach the majors.

Sam Smith, former sports editor of a Des Moines newspaper, has been made business manager of the Lincoln club of the Western league, according to Dick Breen, new president of the Links.

William C. Whitman of Philadelphia, who, for the last three years has been a scout for the Chicago National League baseball club, has signed a contract to manage the Pittsfield baseball club of the Eastern league.

Neal Ball has gone back to his old business of managing the New Haven team of the Eastern league. He pitched the Profs in 1923 and finished third. Last summer he tried his hand at Pittsfield, but quit before the season had gone very far.

Buffalo of the International league, has sold Outfielder Vernon Spencer to the Toronto club of the same league. Spencer was placed on the suspended list by Manager Cuyler of the Blue Jays last July, following a run-in. He played with Toronto some years ago.

Harry T. Madden, registrar of Lockwood county, Penn., for many years and a close follower of baseball, has been made president of the Scranton club of the New York-Pennsylvania league. Madden acquired no interest in the club from Charley Davis of Newark.

Fish's Many Names
A sea trout has various names in different parts of the world. In Dover and Cornwall it is always a pout; in Scotland it is a white trout. In New England, New Brunswick, and Wales, it is known as the young sea trout, and another common name for this fish is salmon trout.

Six Industrial Nines Entered

Two More Baseball Teams Needed to Complete Industrial League—Palen Industry Enters Team—Officers Selected.

The fans who enjoyed the contests produced by the teams of the Industrial League last year on the Athletic Field will have an opportunity to satisfy their craving for the sport again this season for a number of industries met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening to get matters under way for the formation of a league.

Six of Kingston's industrial institutions were represented at the meeting and entered teams. With six berths filled there is still room left for two more nines and it is expected that the two places will be taken up very shortly. The aggregations ready to take the diamond at a minute's notice are: Kingston Gas & Electric Co., winners of cup for first place last year, the U. & D. R. Co., Schilling Furniture Co., West Shore R. R., K. & M. Silk Mills and the H. W. Palen Woodworking Co. This season is the first for the Palen industry to enter a team in the league. There are a number of men in the plant who can manipulate a "pill" with considerable skill and their debut is expected to be one of meaning. The Athletic Shirt Company it is expected will occupy one of the berths yet open but the eighth opening is still vacant with sure signs of an occupant in the offing.

The league will be governed by the same president who officiated last season, Charles A. Warren, Louis S. Coe, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was elected vice president. John Hartman of The Freeman Publishing Co. was chosen secretary, while the treasurer will be A. D. Pardee of the Pardee Insurance Company. It was decided at the meeting to have the first game played on May 9, but the schedule has not yet been made and the teams who will open the league are yet unknown. With the number of entries the league is expected to last until mid-August.

The constitution and by-laws which will be adhered to this season are practically the same as those used to govern the contests last season. Industries which have teams registered must file the roster of their nines with Secretary Hartman before May 5.

School 5 Wins Over No. 6 Nine

School No. 5 scored a decisive win over No. 6 Tuesday morning by a score of 15 to 1 tally. A feature of the game was a neat triple play by the victors. No. 5 hit safely twelve times against the two that Minasian allowed No. 6. Ed. Minasian, No. 5 pitcher, is to be commended on his splendid performance.

NEW YORK STATE BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Buffalo, April 20 (AP).—Tuesday was the only open night of the New York State bowling tournament and with no competition the leaders held their places in five man event. Today will see full squads of Buffalo and western New York teams on the alleys. The week-end is expected to develop the keenest bowling of the tournament to date as Rochester has twenty teams scheduled to bowl Saturday night. Syracuse, Olean and Ithaca also are to be well represented. To give these and other bowlers opportunity to roll their singles and doubles, week-end schedules call for fifteen hours of continuous bowling.

RAISING THE LID OFF THE BASEBALL SEASON

Well, fellows the Gully All Stars, one of the fastest semi-pro teams in the city, have given us the order to furnish them with uniforms. This is our first order this year for uniforms. Last season we fitted out 8 teams with uniforms and about 15 to 20 teams in the city and county with Baseballs and Equipment.

Boy Tennis Champion

The photograph shows Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, boys' tennis champion of the United States, who, according to William Tilden, possesses the best tennis form in the world, ready for a contest on the Flamingo courts. He created a sensation in a recent tournament at Miami beach.

Sport Notes

The longest measured golf drive on record is 336 yards, made by Bill Horn at North Berwick, Scotland.

Notre Dame has reorganized its athletic program so that each major sport will be conducted under a separate coach.

The Victoria cricket team in Australia is the only team which has ever made 1,000 runs in first-class competition, recently totaling 1,107 against New South Wales.

Despite the fact that golf experts rate her as one of the best female players in the game, Miss Louise Branch of Richmond, Va., has never participated in any golf tournament.

Five women are prominent in the breeding of thoroughbreds in this country—Mrs. R. F. Carman, Mrs. C. W. Moore, Mrs. Louis Vign, Mrs. F. W. Whitney and Mrs. Margaret Emerson Baker.

Major Coplan Gets Promotion

The Portland, (Ore.) Journal in recent issue announces that Major William M. Coplan has been promoted to a very important command in the U. S. Army. Although he spells his name differently, Major Coplan is a younger brother of Morris Kaplan and of Louis Kaplan, the well-known furniture dealers, who live in the city of Portland, Ore. Major Coplan served during the Spanish-American war as chief hospital steward, and in the Philippines, and also was an officer in the Mexican border service later. He was a major during the World War. The article in the Portland Journal says: "By direction of the commanding general, Ninth Corps area, San Francisco, Cal., Major William M. Coplan, quartermaster corps of Portland, Ore., is assigned to the 345th Motor Repair Battalion, Third Army. The battalion consists of four companies and a medical unit. Three of the companies of this command are located in Washington and the fourth in Portland. Recruited up to war strength the command will number about 1,600 officers and men, exclusive of the medical unit. It is assigned to be one of the most important assignments as the movement of troops and material depends entirely upon the condition and fitness of the motorized equipment and it is a huge task to keep them fit for service whether in the zone of interior or at the theatre of operations. Shops must be maintained and instant and expert service rendered. The appointment is a tribute to Major Coplan's knowledge of motors and his organizing ability."

SERIES OF CARD PARTIES FOR CHILDREN'S CAMP

On Wednesday evening, April 27, a card party will be held at the Knights of Columbus Building, Broadway and Andrew street, proceeds going toward the fund to equip Camp Happyland, a camp to be conducted this summer for undernourished children. Euchre, bridge, pinochle and five hundred will be played, games to start at 8 o'clock. A group of ladies of Kingston are conducting this series of card parties, the first of which will be held on the above mentioned date. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served and the public is asked to cooperate. Anyone desirous of helping may buy a table. The name of Mrs. James Simpson was omitted from the list recently published of those in charge of the parties.

"How come?"
"I signalled I was going to turn a corner and then didn't."

"Always and everlastingly late," snapped wife as hubby came home late for supper. "Why, you were late at church the day we were married."

"Yes, my dear," he replied bitterly, "but not late enough."

I rushed breathlessly into Neighbor Brown's apartment. "Brown," I panted, "your wife just eloped with the saxophone player who lives next door."

(Pause) "You don't seem excited."

"No, there's no reason to be. We stood the saxophone groaning as long as we could. This morning the wife and I tossed to see who should get rid of him. She lost."

How do they expect to arrive... if they never start?

SUPPOSE a man wanted to go to Europe—
Suppose he had his ticket in his pocket. Suppose he hung around the dock all day but never went aboard the boat—
How absurd!

Yet lots of people are that way about life. They want to get to success, to happiness, to security and contentment. They pity themselves because they aren't getting there. But they just don't start.

Here's a little 25-cent idea that may enrich your whole life. Buy the May American Magazine for 25 cents tonight. Read, on page 37, the personal story of the great inventor and business man who tells how to get started—not tomorrow, or next year, but right now.

Read, on page 32, the story of the internationally known author who tells from abundant experience what it means to have a goal, a compelling reason for going on.

Spend an evening with the biggest folks who are going. And see if you don't feel bigger; see if it isn't a start.

Twenty-five cents, and you're on your way to a larger, richer LIFE.

America's Gold Draws Europe's Art Treasures Here; Two Hundred Millions Paid for World Beauties

Nation Is Becoming Largest Holder of Masterpieces

NEW YORK (U. I. N. Special).—Just as Rome drew to it art from all corners of the Mediterranean as it grew rich and fat, so is the United States acquiring the important paintings, tapestry and statuary of Europe.

It is estimated that objects of art thus far brought to this country from the Old World are worth $250,000,000, and it has in the past few years, dealers estimate that within a short time America will be in demand for the world's art.

The works of art now accumulating in America are coming from England, the Netherlands, Italy, Spain, France and Germany, most notable among which recently have been the six Gothic tapestries of the "Hunt of the Unicorn," and for which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., paid $1,500,000. Another outstanding purchase was that made by Henry E. Huntington, of California, who paid $750,000 for Gainsborough's "Blue Boy."

Among some of the world's notable treasures included in America's present collection is the painting of "Pinkie," by the British artist, Lawrence, and for which Duveen Brothers, of New York, paid $370,000.

A work by the Italian painter, Raphael, entitled "Small Cowper Madonna," now in the collection of George E. Widener, of Philadelphia, was brought to this country at a cost of $700,000, together with three of Rembrandt's canvases entitled "The Mill" and the "Portrait of a Man," and the "Portrait of a Woman." Widener paid $475,000 for the first and $250,000 each for the other two.

Other important purchases made abroad and added to America's collection were such canvases as the "Portrait of the Duchess of Cumberland," by Gainsborough, sold to Huntington for $300,000, while the Metropolitan Museum of Art paid $500,000 for a painting by Raphael entitled "Virgin and Child Enthroned."

America is buying up Europe's art. Millions are crossing the ocean eastward, and treasures in oil and stone are crossing westward. Gainsborough's famous "Blue Boy" and Lawrence's "Pinkie," both shown above, are only two of the valued works acquired, the former by Henry E. Huntington, of California, for $750,000, and the latter by Duveen Brothers for $370,000.

Court Room Study of Mrs. Snyder

Here is the first court room picture of Ruth Snyder, taken in the court house at Long Island City, N. Y., where she and Henry Judd Gray are on trial on charges of murdering the woman's husband. This remarkable picture shows how greatly she has aged under the strain of accusation and imprisonment. (International Newsreel.)

WIDESPREAD SUFFERING IN MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

Local, State and national agencies are being pushed to the utmost to reduce suffering inflicted on thousands in the lower Mississippi Valley by raging floods. Photo shows what rising waters did to the main street of Hickman, Ky., and some of the hundreds of homeless camping on high ground near the Kentucky town.

Helped Smith

Rev. Francis P. Duffy, chaplain of the 165th Regiment, helped Governor Al Smith, of New York, prepare his statement in which Smith held that his allegiance to the Roman Catholic Church does not interfere with his allegiance to the United States. Charles C. Marshall, New York attorney, had held Smith's faith would make him unworthy of the office of President of the United States.

Highest Paid

Arturo Toscanini is to receive the highest salary ever paid an opera conductor. He is journeying from Milan to America to wield the baton at forty concerts for $40,000—which figures out at $25 a minute.

BEAUTY OF GRAY'S LORELEI FADES IN COURT; ANOTHER WIDOW ON TRIAL IN PARALLEL CASE

The beauty that attracted Judd Gray to Mrs. Ruth Snyder, with a resilient tragedy that has just put both of them on trial for life, is not apparent as Mrs. Snyder sits in the courtroom at Long Island City, N. Y. Photo at left shows Mrs. Snyder leaving jail to appear in court. At right is Mrs. Lucy Baxter Earley leaving jail in Newburgh, N. Y., to face a jury on a murder charge. She is also accused of having killed her husband for love of another man. The trials are proceeding simultaneously.

Very Open

A man had invited a business acquaintance to play a round of golf with him. The guest, who was a very pompous individual, was also a poor player and backed up the turf with each stroke.

After he had carried away an unusually generous portion with his tee he turned to his host and said:

"You know I don't care particularly for the game, but I like the glorious open country hereabouts."

"Ah, quite," replied the other, as he surveyed the scarred ground. "But do you mind closing up the open country as we go along?"

Surely Not Overworked

The doctor had called at the Jones home. The occurrence was so unusual that Ned North, from the next farm, decided to investigate.

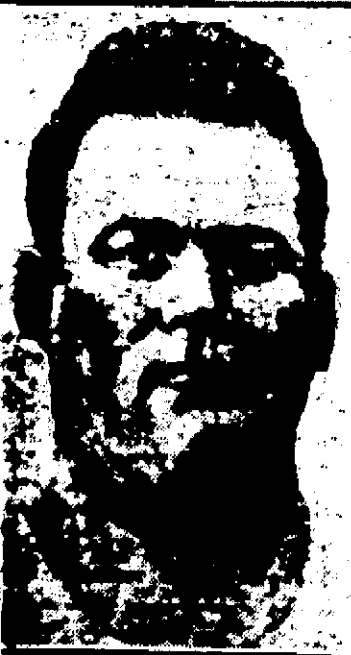

"Yes," answered Old Jones, upon being questioned. "Dina, the wife, is sick. I don't know just what's the matter. She got up this morning and had breakfast for me and the boys at five, and then she did some washing and some butter and the children and a little laundry, but she didn't seem to be a-sleeping a patch of garden. She got down, and was a-sweating and a-sweating the afternoon when she even broke over. I just didn't think what she was the matter, for she's been a-sick nothing but regular home here, ever since, for the last 10 years."—Los Angeles Times.

Great "Teacher of Law"

Gonzalez, the grandson of Hiram, a member of the Parliament, was a well-known and famous and liberal-minded philosopher and "teacher of the law." Among his pupils was Karl of Tarnob, known later as Paul, and known to the world as St. Paul, the Apostle to the Gentiles. In Acts 22:3 it is stated that before Paul became converted to Christianity he "sat at the feet of Gonzalez."

THEN and NOW

Few athletes come back. But Matt McGrath, weight lifter of the New York police force, may be the exception. He's back on the field again, giving youngsters a run for their money. Pictures show him as he looked at the height of his career in the Olympic games years ago, and as he looks today.

Ingredients for Jelly

Scientific study of the principles of jelly making has shown that three ingredients are required for the formation of a jelly, namely, sugar, acid and pectin; and these must be present in fairly definite proportions. Tart apples, cranberries, red currants and grapes, when collected at the proper stage of ripeness, contain pectin and acid in sufficient quantity to form a good jelly when cooked for a short time with the proper amount of sugar.

Gas Power Analyzed

A gas company has figured out that 1,000 cubic feet of gas will cook 18 meals for 6 persons; heat shaving water for 1,000 days; rent sufficient coffee to make 2 cups daily for 70 years; light 2 cigars a day for 300 years; boil 275 gallons of water; bake 1,750 1/2-pound loaves of bread in a coal-burner oven; do the work of two bees in harvesting eggs; build 7 3-pound steaks; barbecue enough ham to make 1,750 sandwiches.

Not to Be Taken Literally

"I'll be delighted to vote for you." "The car's as good as new." "Your daughter plays beautifully." "The picture is all mine." "Come again."—Twelve Star. And how about "Let me pay?"

Why You Should Join Auto Club

Automobile Club of Ulster County Gives Its Reasons Why Motorists Should Join Organization and Share In Its Benefits.

A real man wants to do his share in the promotion of common good. Automobiles, of one type or another, have come to be almost the sole users of the highways. Within the short period of twenty years there has been a revolution in vehicular traffic. In the adjustment of this new vehicle and this new means of transportation to the social economy, motor clubs have been indispensable. Every man who owns a machine exhibits a disposition to do his share when he maintains a membership in his home club. Through the club, in cooperation with other motorists, he does for himself what he could not do single-handed. The non-member motorist is a slacker. He reaps where others sow.

If the duties referred to do not appeal to his sense of fairness, when he comes to travel the motorist discovers another mighty important reason why he ought to belong to his home motor club. Local clubs handle local problems. Local clubs in different cities and towns unite to form state associations in the maintenance of a great national organization. In this way hundreds of clubs, all over the land are brought into harmonious relationship. They combine to furnish information to one another, to promote good roads, fair taxation, the making of road maps, and the thousand and one things in which motorists are interested.

Perhaps the most valuable feature of this national relationship is in the reciprocity it provides. For twenty-three years the American Automobile Association has held nearly all the motor clubs together for their common good and that of their members. If you are a member of a motor club affiliated with the A. A. A., you are entitled to the courtesies of this great multitude of clubs.

You may get courtesy without membership—the officers of the motor clubs are gentlemen. However, you will be regarded as a "motorist," the motorists' designation of a "deadhead." Those who travel most have learned that in every state in the Union and in every country of the world the radiator emblem of the A. A. A. or one of its clubs is worth its weight in gold. For one thing, it indicates that the owner is a man who is doing his share. It is a certificate of good character and good citizenship. It makes you a brother of good citizens everywhere.

SCOUT TROOP TO PRESENT PLAY AT EPWORTH HALL

Boy Scout Troop 11 of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church is planning to present a Scout play and entertainment in Epworth Hall Friday evening, April 29. The play is entitled "A Strenuous Afternoon" and depicts a troop of Scouts who keep the Scout master busy the last day at camp with numerous complications which arise. The play is intended to teach some of the Scouting principles and methods. There will also be Scout demonstrations and two reels of motion pictures.

ULSTER COUNTY DAIRYMEN TO MEET AT GARDINER

The regular sub-district meeting of the Ulster County Dairymen's League will be held in Odd Fellows Hall, Gardiner, on Monday evening, April 25, at 7:30.

The threat of western milk invasion will be thoroughly discussed and all members are urged to be present. Millard Davis, sub-district president, will be in charge of the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Donkey Party and Supper.

LIFE NOT GOLDEN TO ORGAN PUMPER

Unenviable Boyhood Days of Young Musician.

The organ pumper was a figure in his time. He was just a boy, immature and awkward, whose father and mother sincerely believed his church affiliation would some day lead to sparkling accomplishments in the realm of music. If not in the field of theology—beliefs that ultimately were wondrously shattered.

His father was rated as the one post the stepping stone to the community to higher things, but he never regarded it as such because of the discomfort in the strict necessity for wearing his best clothes to work in. He was fretted by a wide starched collar that chafed and chafed him. Sometimes he wore a troublesome blouse buttoned directly on to his pants, but usually he was harassed by a pair of suspenders, twisted in the back, which continually slipped down over one shoulder or the other as he pumped with one hand and tried to ease a painful stitch in the side with the other.

In winter his reefer and a heavy flapped cap pulled down over his ears to the detriment of those organs, could be discarded when he reached the loft but he was not allowed to shed the hairy coat of the suit that came to him in a transaction involving free bat and a Junior League baseball. In summer, before he started for church, he was forced to brush his cowlicked hair, wash back of his ears, and he grimacingly stamped his swollen, travel-caloused feet into pointed-toe shoes previously polished with a combination brush and dabber out on the back porch. He held his long ribbed stockings up with knotted black elastic from which the elasticity had long since fled—tight circles that left a corrugated red ring above his knees, a little itching indication of his fortitude.

He performed a duty profound and sacred—a duty allegedly housing a great future. There was no freedom to indulge his prankish propensities unless he was hired by the organist for a practice session on Saturday morning or at the conclusion of the regular services. He helped produce the music that was the basis of the exalted quality and sublimity of the program. But he lost a fine personal appreciation of his place because of the muscular exertion required, which was only aggravated by clothing wholly unsuited to the rigors of the job—From "The Pipe Organ Pumper," by Chet Shafer.

Systematized Production

The system of mass production originated 200 years ago among the ikon painters of Kholoy village, in Ivanov-Vosnesensky province, according to the diligent rural correspondent. By systematizing their work until each ikon passed through eighty to one hundred hands, the village was able to turn out 2,000,000 in a year. Since the Bolshevik revolution ikon painting in this and the nearby village of Palekh has lost its market. The villages which had subsisted by painting the stiff images attempted agriculture. This was not found congenial, and the men now are making toys while the women are turning out an unusually fine standard of embroidery, earning better wages than the men.

Killing Influenza Germ

It is good news that an Athens doctor has invented an electric machine that is said to be able to kill the influenza microbe in 15 minutes. Still there may possibly be a catch about it somewhere. If you have to put the microbe into the machine and turn the handle for a quarter of an hour before the horrid creature expires, it may seem hardly worth the trouble.

"In any case, I think the time speed fed is far too long," comments a writer in the London Post. "If I could once get an influenza microbe comfortably strapped down in the electric chair I feel I could deal with him effectively in a far shorter space of time. Perhaps, however, the idea of a lingering death for the victim may appeal to the popular taste."

Storm Pleased Him

Milo and Lulu are twins about four years old, relatives of Rev. S. R. Grimes of Zionsville. They were engaged in a childish fight during a rainstorm, and Lulu climbed into her mother's lap to be comforted. A bright flash of lightning was followed by a loud clap of thunder.

Names Accorded Influence

Compelling children to grow up "good" by giving them the right sort of names is an old theory given fresh attention. A lawsuit wherein judgment was obtained against a French attorney who neglected to prosecute a suit for plagiarism against a rival, brought forth these "good" names: Albert, Alphonse, Elvira, Gustave, Charles, Paul, Henri and Louis, among many others. He says, "I prefer, preferably, should be christened Jeanne, Agathe, Marie, Berthe, Clotilde, Anne or Therese. The names turned out: Richard, Joseph, Fernand, Robert, Edouard, Suzanne, Leo and Helene."

Build World War Memorial Chapel

Will Commemorate Graduates of First Plattsburg Training Camps Who Lost Their Lives—Major General Leonard Wood May Break Ground Memorial Day.

Plattsburg, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Thanks to the efforts of prominent women in eleven eastern and mid-western cities, an army chaplain's dream of a World War memorial chapel on the federal military reservation here is to come true.

Chaplain Bert Webster some time ago suggested that a church be built to commemorate the graduates of the first Plattsburg training camps who lost their lives in the war. Before the plan had progressed very far Webster was transferred to Hawaii but a committee of women, headed by Mrs. George Emilen Roosevelt of New York, carried on the work.

Most of the $250,000 needed for the stone chapel has been subscribed and the committee hopes that Major General Leonard Wood, expected home from the Philippines on leave this spring, will consent to break ground on Memorial Day, May 30. General Wood was a staunch advocate of the training camps established here early in the war.

The chapel will provide facilities for Protestant Catholic and Jewish services. It will stand on the government reservation overlooking Lake Champlain, near the pine grove in which the training camp tents are pitched each summer. The members of the army post and their families will share it with the students, who are in camp during July and August.

Women's committees are working in Princeton, N. J. Providence, R. I. New Haven, Conn. Boston, Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw, Washington, Rome, N. Y., Albany, N. Y., and Plattsburg. Mrs. Codman Sturgis of New York is vice chairman of the general committee.

Sterilizing Bandages

The public health service says when sterilizing cotton material for bandages the temperature should be 250 degrees Fahrenheit for an hour. If the bandage is rolled, it would never become sterilized; therefore, it would be better to buy bandages that have already been prepared.

Lighting Prize Cup on Display

On display in the show windows of the New York Cloak and Suit Company, 33 North Front street, is the silver cup donated by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation for the best lighted window during the spring display week held recently. Mr. Joslovitz of the New York Cloak and Suit Company is justly proud of the cup which his lighting display won in competition with the other stores of the city. He is delighted over the awarding of the first prize to his store and desires to thank the donor of the cup.

The cup is a large silver affair on which is engraved "Best lighted window, Spring 1927, New York Cloak & Suit Company, Donated by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation."

The cup will be on display in the window for a time so that the public may view the prize which was awarded. The prize was awarded by three judges who took into consideration the lighting effect of the window with reference to quality of light with regard to character of display.

Artistic and psychological use of light. Contrast. Concealment of lighting equipment. Window finish. Intensity and flexibility of lighting system. Distribution of light.

This special lighting award was given in addition to the cash prizes awarded by the Merchants' Association for the best window display.

ST. MARY'S BOY SCOUTS TO PRESENT MINSTREL

The members of St. Mary's Boy Scout troop are working diligently for the presentation of a minstrel performance to be held in the school hall on April 26 and 27. The Scouts are being modeled into performers under the direction of David L. Long, who has the little fellows much enthused over the presentation of the show, and each one is planning to do his best in order to please the many friends whom they expect will attend.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Maybe you thought you heard WDBZ late Tuesday night, but it was WIAD at Philadelphia that you heard broadcasting a program by the Progressive Music Club. At the same time you could have heard the Red Apple Club program from WCE, and the program from WBBM very loud and clear. But you probably heard none of these for the reason that if you are not an incurable radio fan you are not an incurable radio fan.

you had been sound asleep for an hour or two before any of these stations—or any other station beside the Big Three and a few others could be heard at all. Rising static accompanied the late reception. Afternoon reception was good but the evening was weak, mushy and fading. Strangely, while this was at its worst WHN and WBB were unusually good. Montreal had a spasm of unusual strength and KDKA made a strong grab after an evening of almost silence. WLW and WTAM were also heard sometimes.

"Oh What a Fat Was Whoa!"—the hit of the Stromberg-Carlson program.

WDBZ at 6:20 this evening will give another Kingolico program in one hour.

Colonial Fate to Be Known Saturday

Check-up of Season Tickets, Will Decide Fate of Colonial Ball Team of 1927, Taken to Saturday.

Due to the fact that Bud Culliton is out of town today, a meeting for this morning, for the purpose of taking a final analysis of the situation for this season, has been postponed until Saturday afternoon at 3:30 when a check-up will be made. The price of $25 season tickets that have been disposed of by the time of the meeting Saturday will decide the fate of the Colonial baseball team for the season.

A large number of citizens are having a high caliber ball team here again this season. The plan to sell one hundred tickets which will raise the sum of $2,500 necessary to put the team on the field. The money raised will be used to uniform the team, put the playing in shape and assure the combination of smooth sailing throughout the season.

Season tickets will admit their holders to all games played at the Fairgrounds, including grand stand seats at several major league contests. The team which stands in the way of depending upon Kingston's ball team to make it a reality, is an aggregation of the strength of the summer years. Bud Culliton and Robins have been selected as the managers for the job of piloting the team through the 1927 season. Brown will handle the bookkeeping and Murray of the State of New York National Bank is treasurer of the committee handling the selling of the tickets. Up to this morning a reasonable number of season tickets had been disposed of but it will not be known for certain whether the plan to go through until the meeting on Saturday.

It is thought that the team will be started the season within two or three weeks after all the tickets have been sold. Bud Culliton and Jack Robins have been in touch with many players who were the Colonial team last year and feel certain there will be no difficulty in securing these players and others who want in applications.

Witness in Earley Trial

Albany, N. Y., April 20 (AP).—Lucy Baxter Earley, alleged accomplice of her husband, Daniel F. Earley, was listed as the state's star witness today at the trial of Mrs. Earley for the murder of her husband. Her testimony, which was to be the presentation of the case, was expected to divulge the details of the "arrest" for a medical expert estimated that 36 grains of the drug must have been administered. Testimony has been in to show that Mrs. Earley and her husband were intimate. Her defense was ready to proceed in case this afternoon. In connection with a request by Supreme Justice Arthur S. Thompson, presiding, Counsel for Mrs. Earley has not indicated whether she will take the stand.

Matters Before The Surrogate

Surrogate Kaufman has approved the account of Thomas C. Coryell, Fred Coryell and Frank Coryell, as the executors of the will and testament of their late wife, Mary Augusta Coryell. The large number of beneficiaries made by Mrs. Coryell have been paid. The accounts of the executors were passed and approved, and they were directed to pay to themselves as trustees of the trust created by the will, undistributed assets. Judge Water was counsel for the executors.

Pattern of Beauty

There is a certain pattern of beauty which exists in a combination of the human body. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a woman. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a man. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a child. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a nation. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a world. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a universe. It is the thing which gives us the beauty of a God.

Building Building Material

Clay brick, when properly made, is the best building material. It is the best building material for the house, the school, the church, the factory, the office, the store, the hotel, the apartment house, the skyscraper. It is the best building material for the future. It is the best building material for the world. It is the best building material for the universe. It is the best building material for the God.

Height of Quilts

Quilts are so perfectly made that they are the best building material for the house, the school, the church, the factory, the office, the store, the hotel, the apartment house, the skyscraper. They are the best building material for the future. They are the best building material for the world. They are the best building material for the universe. They are the best building material for the God.

THE HAPPY CAT

"MEOW, meow," said Aggie, the cat. "I have been asked to tell about myself and my nice home. My mistress is a lovely lady. She is very wise and very clever. She has wonderful books and magazines and papers about, and to show that I am the cat belonging to a clever person I pick out the best of these books and magazines and papers and sit upon them!

"I Pick Out the Best and Sit Upon Them."

"How do I know which are the best ones? They're all good and so they're all best to my cat mind, meow-meow; ha, ha, you didn't think I was going to say that."

"Joyce is the name of my mistress. She has a little box outside her window and in the box she grows grass for me as I really love grass. Then she grows radishes for the rest of the family, for they love radishes."

"Then there are two parrots and they like to nibble at all sorts of things. They like to nibble at the paper covers on books."

"I suppose they think they show their wisdom that way but I think to sit on wisdom is better than to chew it!"

"They are watched by a cat from the roof of the house beyond, but they are quite safe and though the cat takes at them with his big green eyes they don't notice the cat."

"I've heard my mistress say that. 'And these parrots are allowed all about. They even climb on the window sill when the window is open and they never go away. They seem to think that the world ends where they are and that there is nothing to see beyond.'"

"But I must continue to tell about myself."

"I am very neat. I keep my black fur looking glossy and smooth. 'I exercise enough but not too much. I play and I sleep and I eat. My white tuft of hair under my neck, or upon the front of my neck, is a handsome touch, my friends say.'"

"I have a pink ribbon to match her pink dress, a red ribbon to match her red dress, a blue ribbon to match her blue suit and a greenish yellow ribbon to match my eyes."

"After every meal I chew at the broom-handle and so keep my teeth clean."

"My mistress says the broom-handle has many marks from my teeth and that I never finish a meal without doing this, and that is the truth."

"I keep my claws sharp by scratching them upon the wicker chairs."

"And I jump beautifully."

"I get up high, on a very tall mantelpiece, and then I put my two paws on the next little outstanding part of the mantelpiece and then I jump for the sofa below."

"My mistress says it is a most beautiful jump."

"Then sometimes I sit a long time on the mantelpiece while people wait to see this beautiful jump. And I keep them waiting for it so it will seem like an important act."

"My mother and my father were fine, well-mannered cats and my mistress says I take after them. I play with my mistress and she plays make-believe tunes upon my paws while I purr and she sings."

"But she says you have to know me to really know how wonderful I am. That is what my Mistress Joyce says. And so it must be the truth!"

WHAT THE GRACIOUS HOSTESS SAYS:

By DELLA THOMPSON LUDS

SHAKING HANDS

WHEN AMERICANS are rather noted for shaking hands. That is because we are a warm-hearted and cordial people, and the custom should not be too harshly condemned as being "provincial." We may keep our warm-heartedness and our manner of friendliness and cordiality, and still learn to control our impulses so that what we do or say will not appear ridiculous or "gushing."

Men, when introduced, always shake hands. A woman shakes hands with a man if he is some one she is particularly glad to meet, an elderly man to whom she wishes to show courtesy, or a special friend of some member of her family whom she wishes to honor.

A person coming into a group and being presented to them, does not offer his hand first. Some one of the group may make him welcome by holding out a hand.

A very young man, being presented to an older one, would wait for the older man to take the initiative, which he should instantly do.

To refuse to shake hands with any person who is a guest of your hostess would be the height of rudeness, as well as an evidence of narrowness.

Shaking hands at parting depends entirely upon the degree of acquaintance, or friendship existing, or upon the feeling that has sprung up between two persons who have been introduced.

A gentleman always removes the glove from his right hand before shaking hands with a woman, unless at a wedding where he is usher, at opera or ball.

One sometimes wishes lessons in hand-shaking were a part of every high school course. The clumsy hand-shake is repulsive. You feel as if you wanted to strike from you the cold Italian finger-tips that give no clasp, have no warmth.

There is magnetism and charm in the clasp of some hands, and there are other hands as lacking in personality as is the seal behind them.

Then there is the hand that grips you like a vice, crosses your fingers and sees just how much you will stand without screaming. And even this is better than the handshake that is so close at all.

When you shake hands put some warmth into it. One doesn't need to "squeez" the fingers of the other, nor treat the new like an animated rubber band, but there they be sufficient pressure so that the "shaking" is not all on one side.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

INADEQUATE EDUCATION

THE most serious question confronting education today is whether the present generation is going to be more Christian or more pagan. The responsibility for the answer lies at the door of universities, colleges and the public schools. The rising generation is being educated in a world uncharged with jazz, the spirit of an intense competition and the law of the survival of the fittest. The tremendous task of developing a Christian idealism is therefore a matter of community interest.

As a preparation for this task our institutions of learning are rendering most valuable service. No more adequate system of education can be found anywhere. Upon this task of preparation for world citizenship our youth devote five days a week of from four to six hours each. This is equivalent to about one hundred and twenty hours a month or about twelve hundred hours for an average school year devoted almost entirely to the study of the arts and sciences.

Does this method of education, elaborate as it is, furnish all or even the most important requisites for success in the economic world? Success, like the spirit of democracy, rests upon aged and unalterable standards. They are the norms of a Christian idealism. Upon the development of these standards the average youth spends about one-half an hour a week, in contrast to the one hundred and twenty hours devoted to secular education.

The task of imparting the knowledge of moral norms is also frequently assigned to a poorly prepared Sunday school teacher or is undertaken by an inadequate system of religious education. This factor cannot be ignored in our system of education if the present generation is to make an adequate contribution to the development of the social order. Shall the standards of a pagan or Christian philosophy of life rule the future? The problem is one for which education is responsible.

Japan Welcomes New Year

The opening of the new year is celebrated in Japan with more enthusiasm than in any western country. The rejoicing begins on New Year's eve, when no one thinks of going to bed, and bells ring all night, and through January 1 to 3 are regarded as the three chief days of the New Year. Holidays and festivities continue until January 14, winding up ceremoniously with a grand feast of the turn to labor.

Men of Plain Speech

Unused to Long Words

"Do I understand you to assert, Mr. Higgins," asked the lawyer for the defense, "that there were other subsequent occurrences of like nature, consecutive and consequent?"

"No, sir," disclaimed Mr. Higgins, cautiously. "I didn't use no such language as that! All I says was: There weren't nary a chicken stole till after Mr. Jenkins was let out of jail, but there was the very next arter; and some mean skunk—I ain't namin' names—kep' right on robbin' hereabouts every Satdy night, and there was feathers in his yard Sunday mornin'!" That's every word I said, an' not another syllable."

Long words are apt to arouse timidity or resentment in circles where brief and pungent speech is the rule. The Christian Register recently told of the objections of a certain primitive and plain-spoken Captain Loveless to the new minister's "high-brow talk."

One day the minister was trying to converse with another old retired seaman, Captain Williams, who was very deaf; Captain Loveless had been telling about "the big fire in '81."

"Was it the consensus of opinion," asked the minister, "that the conflagration was the result of accident, or the work of an incendiary?"

"Bey!" said Captain Williams, hoarse to ear.

"What he wants to know," cut in Captain Loveless, raising his voice to carrying pitch, "is whether the big fire was set or hatched?"

Eskimos Not Worried

by Laws or Lawyers

North Greenland might well be described as the Communists' paradise. It is a region practically without laws; there are certainly some in regard to real estate.

The stone houses in which the natives live belong to nobody in particular. If an Eskimo family find an empty one, they simply move into it and it becomes theirs until they vacate.

or they simply take other mates. There is nothing that corresponds to "courtship."

In such circumstances it seems strange that Eskimo women are among the most devoted parents in the world. If a separation occurs, the children always go with the mother. This arrangement, as may be imagined, leads to interminable complications, but, in spite of it all every one seems happy.

Shakespeare an Italian?

An Italian professor, Paladino, has just written a monograph to support his view that Shakespeare was born in Italy of Protestant parents and was called Michael Angelo Florio. He argues that Shakespeare was the author of a volume of verse called "Second Fruits" which came under the ban of the Roman church. In consequence of this religious opposition Shakespeare then fled to England where he set up in business as a playwright. In support of this theory Professor Paladino quotes passages of "Second Fruits" which he finds given in full in Hamlet—Manchester Guardian.

Historic Building

White Tower is the name given to the largest and most important of the buildings comprising the Tower of London. It was built about 1078 by King William I, the Norman conqueror, but was added to and strengthened by several of William's successors. Until the time of the Stuarts it was used both as a palace and as a state prison. A menagerie existed in the White tower down to 1581, when the animals were removed to the Zoological garden. The tower contains a fine collection of armor.

Greens Prefer Beauty

Greens as a people have a peculiar way of life that is quite different from that of Americans. Their desire is to be respected, not to be loved, and having an interest more in beauty and less than in material success. Their standard in personal relations is exceptional and as a rule their habits are temperate.

They show a liking for the more modest of children.

BACK WITH A VENGEANCE

Twenty years ago George Vought left the links, as he thought for good. He was tired of being a caddy. Four years ago he returned and today he's the newest sensation. He's just finished polishing off other contestants in the Mason and Dixon championship at White Sulphur Springs, Va., taking over the sixteenth tournament since 1923. He's shown in action there. His home is in Washington, D. C.

yesterday, one striking southern ward, the other northeastward, left known death list of 23, nine others listed as probably, fatally injured and about 100 less seriously hurt.

Property damage in the five counties where the storm took life, and in half a dozen other counties where it felt its force in diminished violence was roughly estimated at $1,000,000.

900. Many buildings, most of the in farming communities, were destroyed, and considerable damage was done to crops.

Greene county, north of Louis, suffered most heavily in ties. Nine were killed there. A other death resulted a few mi-west, in Calhoun county.

One arm of the tornado reached from Greene county

The main series of squalls, however, bounded northeastward, taking four lives in Sangamon county and four more in Logan, which is north of Sangamon.

While the loss of life was confined to relatively small territories, most of central and northern Illinois, as well as a part of Indiana, was the wrath of the high wind. Damage was reported nearly as far north as Milwaukee, Wis.

The Greene county toll was distributed in four small communities. Miss Anna Keller, teacher of the Carverville rural school near Carroville, the Greene county seat, lost her husband when caught under debris, although none of her pupils was killed. S.

Questions Asked About Kingston

Questionnaire for Mrs. Chandler's Luncheon Guests Will Test Your Knowledge of Places, Persons and Events in the Old Home Town.

At a luncheon party given today by Mrs. George F. Chandler at her home on East Chestnut street, much amusement was derived from a questionnaire on persons, places and events in Kingston. Nobody scored 100 per cent and some of the percentages were too low for publication. The "Questions on the Home Town", which everyone in Kingston should be able to answer, were as follows:

- 1 What was the former name of Broadway?
- 2 Name the last five mayors of Kingston.
- 3 What internationally known artist painted a large picture (15 feet by 5 feet) for an organization in this city and where is it hung?
- 4 Name three places where a post office was formerly located.
- 5 Give within three years the date in which the consolidation of the public schools was effected.
- 6 At what place in the city, when standing on the sidewalk, can one see the Catskills, two bodies of water, a famous mountain resort, two bridges and four villages?
- 7 What doctor was once mayor of Kingston?
- 8 At what place is there a cluster of five public buildings?
- 9 State within three hours how many times the U & D Railroad tracks cross the streets of the city at grade.
- 10 Name three out of the four state senators who have lived in this city in the last twenty years.
- 11 Name an automobile that was once manufactured here.
- 12 What noted Wagnerian grand opera singer (retired), now makes her home in Kingston?
- 13 On what building are the highest doors in Kingston?
- 14 What is the salary of the mayor of this city?
- 15 There were once two telephone lines here. What were they called at that time, and when was the one discontinued?
- 16 What building has been used at different times for a Catholic convent, an undertaker's establishment and the home of a nationally prominent man?
- 17 Who wrote Mickey Finn?

Constancy That Gave

World Great Lesson

Behind him lay the gray Azores—behind, the gates of Hades; before him only the ghosts of shores—before him only shoreless seas. His good mate said: "Now must we pray, for lo! the very stars are gone! Brave admiral, speak; what shall I say?" "Why, say 'Sail on! sail on! sail on!'" They sailed, and sailed, as winds might blow, until, at last, the blanched mate said: "Why, now, not even God would know, should I and all my men fall dead. These very winds forget their way, for God from these dread seas seem gone; now, speak, brave admiral; speak and say—" He said, "Sail on! sail on! sail on!"

Then, pale and worn, he kept his deck, and peered through darkness. Ah, that night of all dark nights! But, lo! a speck, a light!—a light! a light! a light! It grew!—A star-lit flag unfurled! It grew to be Time's burst of dawn! He gained a world; he gave that world 'to grandest lesson: "On! and on!"—"Columbus," by Joaquin Miller.

Leisure and Laziness Matters Far Apart

If the women's clubs are futile and the politics get nowhere, and if a disillusioned age has found that charity has a great many more attributes than are mentioned in the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians, if being a delightful person is the most a woman can do with her time, why not admit it frankly instead of camouflaging a pleasant and idle life with a pretense of vast activity, or hiding behind the children's romps or the responsibility of table service or anything else? Leisure is good for women, and if they are of the temperament to enjoy it, let them have it. Hard work is good and necessary for some women, and there is still and will be for a long time plenty of interesting non-professional work for women to do, if they have the ability and temperament. But the air needs more clearing. No one should have to apologize for not trying into what is really voluntary work. No one should become absurd for going into it. But if one stays out it should be because one openly prefers leisure.

Leisure and laziness have nothing in common. Laziness breeds discontent and cripples energies. Leisure breeds humor, of which we need much, and beauty, of which we need more, and philosophy, of which we need most. The thirties, if they are wise—and on the whole they are both wise and clever—will come to the point of choosing between the two. Destroy their laziness and preserve their leisure, and the thirties will be the incomparable decade.—Margaret Cullin Banning in Harper's Magazine.

Fruit Company May Locate Here

A large wholesale fruit company specializing in bananas is very desirous to locate in this city, having by investigation learned of its many natural advantages by reason of its excellent shipping facilities by rail and water. There is only one other city in the Hudson valley in view but location is preferred here owing to the fact that shipments can be made quickly to the best markets in all directions.

Should Kingston be fortunate in having this large company locate here, and indications are that it will, a large public cold storage plant would occupy part of the property that is in view which is most ideally located for the purposes intended, and thus would be of great benefit and service not only to fruit growers and potato raisers as there is no public cold storage plant in this section, but to the people in general.

Negotiations for acquiring the property and securing the final decision of the fruit company to locate in Kingston are being handled by Thomas A. Bennett, the well known real estate broker on Fair street.

Widest Streets

The widest street in the world is the Champs Elysees, in Paris. It is 200 feet across. Canal street, New Orleans, is probably the widest in the United States. It has a width of 200 feet.

Not All Afraid of Snakes
Most of the wild animals, or their young, although the latter may be born in captivity, show fear of snakes. But when we try the experiment upon a human baby we see a remarkable contrast. The small human being will look upon the wriggling creature as a plaything, and without the slightest hesitation will take it into his arms and allow it to twist itself around his body!
